RECOVERY IN U.S. DELAYED BY DISPUTES

President Threatens Coal Operators to Write Code for Them

NUMEROUS STRIKES UPSET REPUBLIC

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17 (AP).—A group of the nation's leading bituminous coal operators were understood, tonight, to have decided to stand pat on the open shop clause in their code of fair competition, despite a warning from President Roosevelt that it was not in line with the administration's policy.

The President called them to the White House this afternoon, and with Hugh S. Johnson, the industrial administrator, looking on, told them he wanted a single code for the entire industry on his desk, for approval, before the week-end, and that it should contain no open shop clause.

In line with the President's suggestion, deputy recovery Administrator Kenneth M. Simpson has prepared a code to propose as a substitute for the twenty-nine already submitted. He will offer it when representatives of the industry confer tomorrow with Johnson.

Simpson refused to disclose the contents of his code.

MANY STRIKES

NEW YORK, Aug. 12 (CP).—Officials of the United States N.R.A. sought to mediate industrial conflicts in scattered sections of the nation today, notably the strike of 60,000 garment workers in New York.

Negotiations had reached a point where officials predicted the strikers, demanding higher wages and the end of the sweatshop, would return to work by Monday.

In New Haven, Conn., John J. Egan, secretary of the Connecticut Federation of Labor, pleading with strikers to organize, said that "if the N.R.A. fails, President Roosevelt will be through," and a dictatorship will follow.

HOPES TO END DISPUTES

The National Labor Board, created under the N.R.A. to settle industrial disputes, was supervising negotiations to end strikes in several localities. It gave its attention to a motion picture strike in Hollywood, a shirt strike in Pottsville, Pa., and a labor dispute affecting employees on the New Orleans bridge, and mine troubles at Landsford, Pa.

Strikes in the fruit and vegetable areas of the Pacific Coast, and of hosiery workers in Philadelphia, also attracted official notice.

HAD NOT TOLD ALL THEY KNEW

Michigan Senator Tells Own Inside Story of United States Bank Crisis

DETROIT, Aug. 17 (AP).—Before a jammed courtroom, United States Senator James Couzens, Michigan Republican, today related his own "inside story" of events—ranging from the White House to the Dearborn office of Henry Ford—that preceded the Michigan and United States bank holidays, and charged that banker witnesses before an investigating jury here had not "told all they knew."

The jury for several weeks has been investigating the closing of two large banks in Detroit.

VEERS TO POLITICS

At one point during his day on the witness stand, the senior Michigan Senator veered from the Michigan banking situation to say that during the last national political campaign former President Hoover had asked him to issue, "for political purposes," a statement approving the Reconstruction Finance Corporation's $90,000,000 loan to the Chicago bank headed by Charles G. Dawes, former R.F.C. president.

Yesterday, Wilson W. Mills, former chairman of the First National Bank, Detroit, the country's largest closed bank, accused Couzens of blocking a R.F.C. loan to the Union Guardian Trust Company of Detroit that would, he said, have prevented the Michigan bank holiday, declared on February 14.

REASONS FOR OPPOSITION

Couzens retaliated today with a statement not only himself but "every responsible Government official" had opposed the loan because of insufficient collateral; declared the loan would not have prevented the closing of the banks, and charged Mills with failing to tell "all he knew" about the State's bank crisis.

MORE TROUBLE FOR UNCLE SAM'S POLICE

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17 (CP). — Sam "Pop" Elder, local high school football coach, complained to the police athletes from rival schools were stealing his signals. Elder got two police guards.

VITAL NEED RECOGNIZED

Banff Conference Acknowledges Japanese Want of Mineral Resources

BANFF, Aug. 17 (CP). — Great Britain and United States control three-quarters of the mineral resources of the world, it was revealed today as the fifth biennial conference of the Institute of Pacific Relations in four round-table conferences explored causes of conflict in the Pacific area.

Control has passed into the hands of these nations as a result of their earlier entry into the field of heavy industry. Some of the best resources have been nearly exhausted while the control over the remainder leaves little for other nations if the present controlling nations do not make their output available.

VITAL FACTORS

Iron and coal were mentioned as vital factors in the development of heavy industry. Present control of mineral resources presents a problem to Japan, it was frankly recognized by non-Japanese members of the conference.

A non-Japanese member stated the continued industrial development of Japan is a reality and a factor that cannot be ignored. He declared a plan is required that will

ENQUIRY INTO CRASH STARTED

Investigation to Be Completed in Vancouver—Survivors Fare Well

VANCOUVER, Aug. 17 (CP).—Gordon Mackenzie, Vancouver air pilot, and Olie Besner, Prince Rupert mining man, both of whom were injured in the fatal crash of a Wells Air Transport Company's seaplane in Anderson Lake on Tuesday night, when three passengers lost their lives, were reported in fairly good condition by hospital officials here tonight.

Official inquiry into the tragedy is under way, and will be completed as soon as R. Carter Guest, inspector of civil aviation, Department of National Defence, can gather remaining witnesses.

RETURNS TO VANCOUVER

Returning to Vancouver today, after holding sessions of the inquiry at the scene of the crash, Mr. Guest said he would complete investigation here. As soon as he finishes, his report will be submitted to the department at Ottawa.

Bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Dean had not been recovered tonight. They were trapped in the plane's cabin, and went down with the wreckage, which has been located in 300 feet of water.

Inquest into the death of W. J. Butt, of Vancouver, the other victim, has been postponed.

KILLED BY ROAD GRADER

CALGARY, Aug. 17 (CP).—William Brant, thirty-five, of Carbon, Alta., died today from injuries received when he was crushed beneath a heavy road grader, near here. Brant fell from the machine which passed over him.

Dawson Celebrates Anniversary of Klondyke Gold Discovery

DAWSON, Y.T., Aug. 17 (CP).—Dawson donned gala attire today to celebrate the thirty-seventh anniversary of the discovery of gold in the Klondyke. Grizzled sourdoughs of the Yukon's early days, who braved the rigors of the Northland in their quest for gold, rubbed shoulders with youth as populace from the district turned out for the yearly commemoration.

Parades, sports, and floral, agricultural and mining exhibits featured the day's activity.

After touching on the hardships of the early pioneers, Hon. George Black, Yukon's veteran parliamentarian Speaker of the Dominion House of Commons, concluded an address with declaration of faith in the Northland's future prosperity.

Westholme Hotel Is Sold to Vancouver Man by Local Bank

K. A. Ray, Carpet and Rug Dealer, Takes Over Important Block at Substantial Figure—Property Assessed at More Than $60,000

THE Westholme Hotel, situated on Government Street between Johnson Street and Pandora Avenue, has been sold to K. A. Ray, carpet and rug dealer, of Vancouver, by the Bank of Montreal. While no definite figure was stated yesterday, it was learned that the property changed hands at a substantial figure.

"Whether the hotel will be operated purely as a hotel, or will be continued on the present basis of a semi-hotel and apartment building has not been determined.

The Westholme has approximately 100 rooms, and is a four-story structure with a frontage of 94.8 feet on Government Street, and a depth of 100 feet going back to a twenty-foot private right-of-way, which also is included in the deal.

ASSESSED VALUE

Assessed value of the property for the 1934 tax roll is $64,340, of which $39,400 is for the building and $24,940 for land, divided into three parcels.

It was built in 1910 by the Westholme Lumber Company, and for some years was operated as one of Victoria's leading hotels and grills. It once boasted of a cabaret, and in the days of vaudeville circuits and Ziegfeld Follies road shows, the hostelry housed the traveling artists.

COST $60,000 TO BUILD

When built, a building permit was issued for approximately $60,000, but during the last twenty-three years property values in that section of the city have depreciated, so that assessments in that area have had to be reduced.

The Bank of Montreal acquired the hotel after the close of some litigation with the Westholme Lumber Company in connection with the Sooke Lake water system.

NELSON, Aug. 17. — Lieut.-Col Fred Lister, C.M.G., of Camp Lister, member for Creston riding in the House just dissolved, was tonight placed in nomination by the Nelson-Creston Riding Independent Association as an Independent candidate for the combined riding in the coming provincial election. He accepted the endorsement.

PRINCE GEORGE, Aug. 17 (CP). —Dr. R. W. Alward, who sat as the Conservative member for Fort George in the last Legislature, was given the nomination of the Bowser non-partisan group, Wednesday night. He received a substantial majority over E. H. Burden.

Conference Called at Portland to Lay Plans for Shipping to Orient

PROCESSING TAXES MAY BE INCREASED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17 (AP).—Developing plans for the subsidized export of wheat at prices below the United States level, were announced today at the Agriculture Department, in the same breath with the heralding of a prospect for additional processing taxes on wheat and cotton.

During a day in which major developments or enunciations of policy in the application of the Farm Act to agriculture production, tumbled swiftly one after another at the administration headquarters, the following points stood out:

TO DISCUSS PLANS

Administrator summoned a conference for next Monday at Portland, Ore., to discuss plans for raising wheat prices by shipping part of the area's surplus to the Orient, under which exporters would be reimbursed for losses in selling at less than the price in the United States.

Administrators said a well-defined long-time programme for the reduction of cotton acreage probably would be completed by September

PRICE PEGGING IS PROTESTED

Ottawa Denies Action of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange Is Result of Pressure

OTTAWA, Aug. 17 (CP). — The action of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange in fixing a minimum price for wheat was entirely unexpected here, Government officials stated today. Cables from London declaring that the exchange had acted under pressure from the Canadian Government were referred to members of the ministry, who expressed the opinion steps taken by the Winnipeg exchange were due exclusively to the reaction from the Chicago grain pit, when restrictive measures there forced United States holders to dump in Winnipeg. No pressure was exerted from Ottawa, officials asserted.

ARE ATTACKING ACTION

Special cables from London stated that both the millers and the farmers of the United Kingdom were attacking the action of the Winnipeg exchange in pegging wheat prices, declaring they believed it was taken "under pressure from the Canadian Government."

The opinion was expressed in these cables that such action on the part of the Canadian Government would contravene the letter and spirit of the Ottawa agreements.

DARING DAYLIGHT ROBBERY OF VANCOUVER CASHIER IS FOLLOWED BY TWO ARRESTS

Death Toll From Jamaican Storm Is Placed at 130

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Aug. 17 (AP).—The death toll from Wednesday morning's tropical storm and floods reached 130 persons tonight as a survey of the destruction was completed. About 50,000 inhabitants were suffering from a water shortage and lack of other supplies. The plight of the sufferers was acute and it was estimated it would take $500,000 to restore homes and provide for the needs of these persons.

Cashier for Marshall-Wells Ltd. Loses More Than $11,000 to Three Bandits Who Felled Him on West Pender Street While on His Way to Bank Receipts of the Day

VANCOUVER, Aug. 17.—Brutally attacked in broad daylight as he was passing through Chinatown on his way to deposit the day's receipts in a bank, R. A. Pearce, cashier for Marshall-Wells, Limited, was robbed of between $11,000 and $12,000 by three men. Two suspects were later arrested.

It has been the custom of Mr. Pearce to make up his cash and take it to the bank shortly before close of banking hours. In order to do so, he passes along Carrall Street to Pender and west on the latter street. The bandits had evidently watched him for some time and were acquainted with his daily routine. This afternoon they lay in wait in a hired automobile. As the cashier passed Shanghai Alley, they sprang upon him.

One man struck him a blow on the head. He slumped to the sidewalk, but struggled to rise. The trio kicked and struck him again and again, and wrenched from him the bank book he was carrying, and in which more than $11,000 in cheques and $70 in bills were enclosed.

FLED IN AUTO

The bandits, having possession of the money, climbed back into their car and drove East on Pender Street, and were soon lost in the crowded traffic.

Witnesses of the bold robbery called the police, and detectives under personal direction of Chief of Police John Cameron took up the hunt for the bandits. The car, a hired vehicle, was found abandoned five blocks from the scene of the robbery.

Within an hour Allan Joe McDonald was arrested as a suspect on West Cordova Street, and fifteen minutes later another man was picked up and held for investigation. The entire detective force is concentrating on rounding up others believed to be implicated in the robbery.

The boldness of the holdup, and the rapidity with which it was effected, marks it as one of the most daring street robberies of recent years in Vancouver.

THREE MORE VICTIMS DIE

Killed in Drive Against Former Cuban Supporters of Machado

HAVANA, Aug. 17 (AP).—Two men were killed in the vicinity of the capital and one at Camaguey today as a drive against supporters of former President Gerardo Machado was renewed.

Especial objects of the drive are members of the Porra, former secret strong-arm police force, a number of whose members already have been slain. Authorities at Principe prison said forty men reputed to be Porristas are confined there in special cells.

The Government of Provisional President Carlos Manuel de Cespedes stood firm by its resolution neither to aid nor consent to a flight from justice of any of the Machado followers who have been guilty of misdeeds.

SHOT DOWN IN SHOP

Ricardo Herrera, chauffeur for General Alberto Herrera, former Minister of War, who has fled to Jamaica, was shot down in a barber shop near police headquarters by soldiers and police.

Policeman Marcial Herrero was killed by a mob after he had fired a pistol into the crowd. The incident followed upon his arrest on charges of crimes during the Machado regime. He was left to the mercy of the mob after he had fired the first shot.

TRIES TO ESCAPE

Amparo Gonzalez, reputed follower of Machado, was shot and killed by soldiers when he tried to escape after arrest at a house in suburban San Jose las Lajas.

Army officers reported earlier in the day that Antion B. Ainciart, former chief of police, who has been missing since the overthrow of Machado, had been captured here and taken to Principe prison.

West Cool With Some Hot Spots

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17 (AP). — Electrical disturbances, accompanied at some places by heavy showers, left the Far West generally cooler today, though temperatures of 100 degrees or higher still prevailed at scattered Interior points. Needles, Cal., was the hottest spot as the mercury climbed to 110 degrees.

CHICAGO, Aug. 17 (CP).—There's kinship between monkeys and bad children, Dr. J. A. Campbell, zoo veterinarian of Toronto, believes, but not in the Darwinian sense. He told the Veterinarian Association that of all animals, monkeys were the hardest to deal with in giving medicine.

Peace Not War Policy Of Japan

BANFF, Alta., Aug. 17 (CP). — Dr. Inazo Nitobe, chairman of the Japanese group attending the fifth biennial convention of the Institute of Pacific Relations, and member of the Japanese House of Peers, gave the Canadian Press, tonight, the following signed statement regarding a report Japan and Russia were preparing for war:

"I never made such statement. I talk peace, not war."

Professor Yasaka Takaki and Yusuki Taurumi, two leading members of the Japanese delegation, stated explicitly Japan was not preparing for war and had no intention of preparing for war.

STUDENTS RAID EMBASSY

Representations by British Cause King To Alter His Plans

British Prime Minister Also Has to Cut Vacation Short in View of Reports of Massacre of Assyrians in Iraq

BAGDAD, Iraq, Aug. 17 (AP).—King Feisal tonight postponed his departure for Switzerland a week, following urgent representations of the British Charge d'Affaires. Newspaper reports said more than 300 Assyrian Christians had been massacred in a Northern Iraq village, within two miles of an Iraq army camp. The Daily Herald said the commander of Iraq troops was blamed for the killings.

Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald cut short his vacation at Lossiemouth, Scotland, to return here for conferences with Government heads.

It was learned that strong representations have been made by British authorities to King Feisal for an investigation of the conduct of Iraq troops and Kurdish irregulars under Bekir Sidki Bey, commanding the northern administration of the Arab kingdom. The Iraq minister at London declared that reports of the number of Assyrians killed were exaggerated.

GOOD SECURITY GIVEN BY ACT

Responsible for Large Sums of Money Invested in Mines of B.C.

VANCOUVER, Aug. 17 (CP).—Credit for investment of large amounts of outside capital in British Columbia mining developments during the past two or three years, is largely due to protection afforded the public by the Companies and Securities Act, according to H. G. Garrett, provincial registrar of joint stock companies, in addressing a luncheon of the Kiwanis Club in Hotel Vancouver, Thursday noon.

Continued administration of the act, the speaker contended, will attract large amounts of capital from United States and England, and eventually result in British Columbia becoming one of the biggest mining areas in the world. The act and the various types of companies over which it has jurisdiction, was thoroughly explained by the registrar, who observed that need for such legislation became particularly apparent in the mining and oil boom of 1928-29, when many practices, "not at all honest or fair," came under observation.

FLAMES DESTROY GRANTHAM HALL

Courtenay Fire Department Does Excellent Work in Saving Adjoining Buildings

COURTENAY, Aug. 17. — The Community Hall at Grantham, six miles from here, was completely destroyed by fire, which was noticed shortly after 7 o'clock this morning.

The hall was used the previous night for a whist drive and it is supposed that a fire must have been smouldering all night to break out, perhaps, with a morning breeze. The hall has done service since 1886, when it was erected as Grantham's first schoolhouse.

It is thought probable that, but for the excellent service of the Courtenay fire department, the Grantham School would have been burnt too, as one of the outhouses was consumed by the spreading flames and sparks.

SPANISH GOV'T WINS VOTE OF CONFIDENCE

MADRID, Aug. 17 (AP).—Congress today passed a vote of confidence in the Government of Premier Manuel Azana by a vote of 231 to 6. The subject under consideration was an appropriation bill for the new Ministry of Commerce. Radical Republican delegations did not participate in the vote.

Conference Called By Government on New Federal Pact

Province Will Not Sign Relief Agreement Until Municipalities Satisfied—Meeting Scheduled for Monday to Discuss Terms

CONFERENCE between British Columbia authorities and representatives of British Columbia municipalities as to the terms of the new Ottawa relief agreement will open at 10 o'clock on Monday morning, in the Maple Room of the Legislative Buildings, it was announced yesterday by Hon. W. M. Dennies, at the head of the provincial relief organization. Terms of the agreement, which has been signed at Ottawa, but not by the Province as yet, were released at the same time. Copies of the pact will be made available to municipal officials next week.

The new agreement makes a distinction between the physically fit, and those unfit and unable to work; and classes transients without reference to their date of arrival in this province. It sets up arrangements for Federal works, and states the percentages of aid that will be paid respectively to the Province and to municipalities for the various classes of relief. The general terms of the pact are little changed from those already in effect, except that clearer definitions are given of clouded phases of the old agreement. What actually takes place will rest upon Federal interpretation of the terms, as before.

TO ORGANIZE WORKS

The Dominion is to care for all physically fit homeless men, and will organize works in the province for their employment. Shelter, clothing and fuel will be given in kind, and twenty cents per man in cash for each eight-hour day worked.

No military discipline or training will be attempted, and the personnel of the camps will be entirely civilian, it is expressly set out.

The Dominion may also place at work other groups of men, at the option of the Province, but in that case the Province must contribute twenty-five cents a day towards their keep.

Medical costs will not be borne by the Dominion, exclusive of its own camps. Necessary lands, machinery and operators incidental to road work will be supplied by the Province, as required.

FARM PLAN REVIVED

The Dominion will pay to the Province half the cost of providing necessary food, fuel and clothing for physically unfit homeless men, in camps, not to exceed a total cost of twenty cents a day per man. It will also pay $5 per month in respect to each person placed on a farm.

On a dollar-for-dollar basis with the Province, the Dominion will pay one-third of the cost of necessary direct relief in municipalities, except where elsewhere specially provided, this extending from August 1, 1933, to March 31, 1934, arrangements already made in that respect. The Dominion will also pay half of the cost of direct relief in unorganized areas; half the cost of transporting certain men to and from camps and farms, and one-third of the direct labor cost in municipal works.

If the Province initiates work on the Trans-Canada Highway, the Dominion will contribute sixty cents per man-day towards this work; and fifty cents per man-day on other Provincial highways. Railways are to be reimbursed for men they carry to camps or farms under the plan.

The Dominion renews its offer of twenty-five cents a day per man over a total period of two months for all men placed by the Province under instruction in placer mining camps. This arrangement was made in the Spring, but has not yet been utilized, and it is doubtful if much avail can be made of the scheme at this date.

Administration costs all round are to be borne by those incurring them, respectively the Dominion, the Province, and the municipalities.

The agreement sets out that it is the intention of the Dominion to create works in this province as an outlet for those in camp and for others able to take part in manual occupations. The Province is expected to follow suit.

Bares Secret of Dope Ring Code

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17 (AP).—United States Attorney H. H. McPike said here today an intricate code, allegedly used by Juda and Isaac Ezra, awaiting sentence for narcotic smuggling, had been solved by a woman expert of the Government's decoding office at Washington.

McPike said Juda Ezra, alleged head of an international narcotic ring, had refused to supply the key to the code used in communications found in his possession. The Federal attorney said the solution by the woman expert gave the Government further information concerning the ring's operations.

The Ezra brothers, who recently pleaded guilty to the smuggling charges, will appear for sentence on September 2.

NO DEDUCTIONS

Announcement was made that wheat producers who qualify for benefits under the wheat acreage reduction programme would not be required to return any part to the Government to pay back debts.

George N. Peek, chief administrator of the Farm Act, said approximately 50,000,000 bushels of wheat in the Pacific Northwest would be available for export, and its movement into foreign markets would aid wheat prices throughout the United States.

WOULD HIT AUSTRALIA

OTTAWA, Aug. 17 (CP). — Any action by United States Government to subsidize export of United States wheat to the Orient, as proposed in dispatches from Washington today, would affect Australia more than Canada, grain trade experts here stated today. Canada has seldom been a heavy exporter to China and Japan.

STANDARD OF LIVING

Continued study of the problem of the scale of living in different countries brought out the viewpoint that productivity "determined the standard of living of a people and not the standard of living their productivity. Standards of living would be raised by increasing productivity of goods and services, but this brought into relief the matter of a better system of distribution.

Further review of conference activity brought out the matter of wheat and the statement was credited to a member involved in the wheat business that the grave fears felt two years ago with respect to competition of Russian wheat was now a thing of the past.

Police expressed belief that the truck driver, who did not stop, may have been unaware of the accident. Both legs of both men were broken.

BACK TO LAND MOVE THRIVING

Manitoba Farm Loans Association Reports Many Acres of Land Sold

WINNIPEG (CP). — With purchases of farms more numerous this Spring than for the past three years, a widespread desire to get "back to the land" is noted in revival of interest in Manitoba properties, A. B. Adamson, Manitoba Farm Loans Association commissioner, states.

Land of the very best quality is selling rapidly, Mr. Adamson said. The association has been making seven or eight sales each week for the past two months. In a great many cases cash payment has represented a large part of the purchase price. In some cases all cash has been paid.

Many former farmers have been cured of their desire for city life, the farm commissioner believes. Real impetus has been given the movement, and the old practice of tenant-farmers "drifting" from farm to farm is practically non-existent today. Realizing that a living is to be made from the land today and that it may be had at a cheap price, Mr. Adamson said farmers with grown-up sons are "settling down."

OLD RUINS UNEARTHED

Important Archeological Discovery Made by Japanese in Manchuria

Accidentally discovered by military operations, and with research carried out under the protection of the rifles of the soldiery, the ancient capital of Muhaikuo, a country which 1,000 years ago embraced the greater part of Manchuria, has been revealed through the efforts of Assistant Professor Yoshito Harada, of the archeological department of Tokio Imperial University, according to advices arriving here during the week from the Orient.

The work, the outcome of which may or may not prove one of the most important archeological events of the decade, was conducted under the protection of the Japanese army in Manchuria. Relics recovered by the expedition so far have been landed at Tokio in a number of large cases.

The excavation was conducted under the joint auspices of the Japan and Manchukuo Governments. The party included experts in archeology, specialists in various branches of the science, interpreters and surveyors.

EXISTENCE KNOWN

The existence of the buried ruins had been known through various records of the Tuan dynasty and the history of the foreign trade which existed between Japan and Muhaikuo, but details of its culture and civilization have been a mystery to the world. The name of the capital was Ninguta, and it was situated on the Mutan River, about twenty-five miles south of the Chinese Eastern Railway in Kirin. The expedition required the protection of the army because the district is infested by bandits, and excavation work is perilous accordingly.

It is reported that the scientists have located the ruins of the outer wall, several government buildings, and four large palaces within the walls, and that the relics vividly indicate that the city had a remarkable culture under the influence of the Chinese Tang dynasty and old Korean customs.

The city proper was one mile square from north to south and from east to west. The inner castle was situated in the northern part of the city, facing south. Palaces apparently stood side by side from north to south. A broad avenue, 240 feet wide, at present under a rye field, ran south from the outer wall from the front of the castle.

TEMPLES LOCATED

Ruins of four temple buildings have been found, two on either side of the avenue. Judging from the engravings on foundation stones, the main palace building is about sixty-six feet square, with columns twelve feet apart. The veranda of the palace and its garden are still well defined.

A considerable amount of broken earthenware was discovered through the digging of a battle trench near the outer wall, last May, at the time of military operations against bandits. Remains of dwelling caves were discovered, the apparent degradation of the inhabitants indicating that they were of the lowest caste.

One of the most important discoveries brought to Tokio is a stone lantern, ten feet tall, which had stood erect for more than 1,000 years with its top showing above the surface of the rye field. Heads of stone lions, parts of stone statues and colored tiles also were discovered among other indications of a higher state of culture.

YUKON BAKES; VICTORIA COOL

City Temperature Four Degrees Lower Than That in Dawson City

Dawson sourdoughs celebrated the thirty-seventh anniversary of the famous Klondike gold rush under a blistering sun yesterday, while Victorians readjusted themselves to normal weather conditions after a three-day period of intense heat.

It was hotter in the Yukon, land of the midnight sun, but evidently not eternal snow, than it was in Victoria, more than 1,500 miles away.

Citizens of Dawson shed their coats and unfastened their shirt necks as the mercury rose to 70 degrees. In Victoria, businessmen were able once more to go about the streets with their vests buttoned up without feeling faint from the heat, as the mercury rose to only 66 degrees.

Grand Forks, however, was the most insufferable spot in British Columbia yesterday. The thermometer registered a maximum of 102 degrees.

The forecast for Victoria, today, is moderate to fresh south and west winds, partly cloudy and not much change in temperature.

PREMIER TO PARTICIPATE

Will Speak at United States Ceremony Marking Centenary of Settlement

Premier Tolmie will attend the opening of the new Mowich entrance to Rainier National Park, across the border, on September 2, having accepted, three years ago, an invitation to be present at an United States ceremony there, celebrating the hundredth anniversary of the white man's first visit to the territory. The Premier is to speak at the gathering, and will take with him the diary of his father, William Fraser Tolmie, who was factor of the Hudson's Bay Company's first trading post in the area, at Fort Nisqually, and the first white man in the area.

Rainier National Park was a wilderness when the Premier's father arrived to take charge of operations of the company in the Puget Sound territory, then the playground of Indian tribesmen of the Northwest.

IMPORTANT ROLE

Factor at Fort Nisqually from 1835 to 1854, the late William Fraser Tolmie played a prominent part in negotiations which resulted in the treaty between Great Britain and the United States which set the boundary line, and gave the United States title to what is now Washington and a part of Oregon. The factor became a member of the Oregon General Assembly.

A gate and buildings being erected at the Mowich entrance to the park, will be a replica of the Hudson's Bay trading post. The gate is reached through Enumclaw, Buckley and Fairfax, where a state road is being rapidly completed. Roads are also projected extending into the park itself, practically along the route followed by the Premier's father 100 years ago.

Under Chamber of Commerce and park officials, an elaborate ceremony has been prepared for the formal opening of the portal on September 2. Premier Tolmie will be the featured guest speaker at the affair.

CANDIDATE FOR C.C.F. IS CHOSEN

V. R. Midgley Selected by Trades Union Delegates as Fourth Member of Slate

The C.C.F. slate for the coming provincial election was completed last night when V. R. Midgley was chosen unanimously as the candidate to represent the Trades and Labor Council section in the city of Victoria, at a meeting of trades union delegates. The nomination, which was unopposed, was greeted with a storm of applause by the delegates.

Mr. Midgley, in addressing the meeting and thanking the delegates for their confidence, stated that he would at all times do his best to further the interests of the labor man, should he be successful in gaining a seat in the Provincial Legislature.

He expressed considerable pleasure at the number of labor men appearing at the meeting, especially in view of the bitter opposition with which the C.C.F. had met by a certain section of the Trades and Labor Council. The C.C.F., he said, offered the only solution for the working man.

T. Guy Sheppard, the C.C.F. candidate representing the People's Party in Victoria, spoke briefly, referring to the Roosevelt plan as the substitution of the black vulture by the blue eagle, both of them being birds of prey. What the world wanted, he contended, was not a new deal, but a new deck of cards.

Increase Shown in Local Automobile Club Membership

Despite prevailing straightened circumstances of the country in general, R. R. Webb, secretary of th Victoria Auomobile Club, reports that interest in the local motor organization has been maintained throughout the year. At the present time membership is in excess of hat of last year.

"Advantages of memberships in motor organizations is greatly recognized by car owners in Great Britain," stated Mr. Webb. According to the twenty-eighth annual report of the Automobile Association of England, of which I have just received a copy, that organization now has a membership of 492,587. This is an increase of 22,752 members during the past year.

"Judging from this report and from the increased interest of local motorists, Victoria Automobile Club may soon have a sufficiently large membership to establish a road service patrol," Mr. Webb said. "This patrol would be made up of a number of mechanics on motorcycles, who would be stationed on the highways of Vancouver Island.

TAX RETURNS ARE GOOD IN SAANICH

Tax collections in Saanich for the period ending August 16, as compared with figures for the same time in 1932, showed an increase of approximately 2 per cent, when a report was submitted to the council at its meeting last night.

In 1932, $249,000 was levied, and $24,008.21 was collected in the seven and one-half-month period. This was a 9.6 per cent collection. This year, on a levy of $301,000, $35,306.09 has been collected, bringing the percentage collection to 11.6 per cent.

INFLATION IN PROSPECT IN U.S.A.

The next move under the National Recovery Act in the United States is expected to be a measure of inflation. When the President was given something in the nature of a blank cheque by Congress it included the right to bring about inflation. The prospect of this led to a sharp and continued rise in quotations on commodities and share values. This fact led to actual inflation being postponed. Now, however, the security and commodity markets are experiencing a slump, and President Roosevelt is consulting financial experts to decide on the use of his inflationary powers to give a stimulus to business.

The President is authorized to expand Federal Reserve credit by $3,000,000,000, to inflate the currency of the country by as much as $3,000,000,000 and to devalue the gold content of the dollar by as much as 50 per cent. The manner in which he is to avail himself of this authorization is left to himself, and of its kind it is a power never before given to a President of the United States. It is a powerful weapon which has been applied in other countries and with evil results. The whole history of inflation is one of creating a position of insecurity for any country.

There is no doubt that something, possibly momentous, is in process of development connected with the finances of the United States. Mr. J. P. Morgan has been visiting England. Now Mr. Montague Norman is on his way to the United States. The supposition is that the New York Federal Reserve wants an agreement with the Bank of England to facilitate dollar transactions abroad. International bankers are naturally very anxious that Mr. Roosevelt should show his hand in the matter of currency. They want to know, if the inflation policy is put into effect, what will be the value of greenbacks in the future and to what extent it will be a fluctuating value. Bankers want stability in exchange. That is impossible under a policy of inflation. The latter process inevitably means dollar depreciation, and it is upon this rock that any inflation policy will split. The depreciated dollar, up to the present, has not stimulated export trade for the United States.

The concise fact is that inflation, according to the powers granted to President Roosevelt, will put a further check on the export trade of the United States. The problem, therefore, for that country is the extent to which the National Recovery Act will continue to toss international considerations out of the window and concentrate on internal reconstruction. The latter in any permanent way is impossible unless export trade is fostered. Pressure from within is forcing Mr. Roosevelt's hands to adopt some measure of inflation. The country has committed itself to adventitious economic panaceas and the probability is that it will go on from one to another of these, until, in the course of time, as is inevitable, the law of supply and demand reassumes direct control of the situation.

THE BACK-SEAT DRIVER

An observer might be inclined to think that the back-seat driver is a product of the modern machine age. That, however, is a superficial view. In the interest of scientific accuracy it is important to notice that the proverbial wisdom of our ancestors long ago provided us with such maxims, adages and apophthegms as that he who looks on sees more of the game than the players, that in a multitude of counsellors there is safety, that with an imperfect theory one will naturally fall into an abundance of mistakes. Bacon hath spoken wisely of the difference between the counsel that a friend giveth and that a man giveth himself. "So hot a speed with such advice disposed" is an appropriate Shakespearean line. There is also good authority for the statement that wisdom crieth without; she uttereth her voice in the street.

The back-seat driver, therefore, if we generalize the term so as to make it include within its logical denotation all those theorists who with an inadequate practical knowledge of the matters at issue undertake to direct human affairs from a necessarily limited and personal point of view will cover a much wider field than that of transportation. Let us remember, in conformity with the general sense of the sentiments above quoted, that the back-seat driver is not wholly a superfluity. With a right understanding of his (or her) proper function, he (or she) may act as a look-out officer, may furnish timely information (but avoid giving advice), may act as a sort of consultant in strategy, and so justify his existence. The sporting world, however, could well spare the self-appointed skips who watch and criticize from behind the steamy windows which command a view of the sheet of ice upon which a game of curling is in progress. They are back-seat drivers of a sort. Politicians in the cool shades of opposition form another type. Armchair critics who direct military operations are a well-known clan. Perhaps the most unhappy example of the back-seat driver, outside of the motor car species, is the amateur economist. For the past few years he has offered much unasked advice to the professional bankers, financiers and economists who sit at the wheel employing whatever knowledge and practical skill they possess in avoiding the dangers of the road they have to travel.

The defect which distinguishes the amateur economist is, sad to say, sometimes a moral one. Though a mere amateur in economics, he is frequently a professional fault finder, and as such is impossible to silence or satisfy. In good times and bad he is ever on the job. Nothing pleases him. The aims, the methods, the results, and worst of all, the motives of the professional economists are all wrong. The radical political agitator in the back seat declares that the very principles upon which the national motor car is constructed are unsound, that its motive power is inadequate, that individualistic self-starters should be abolished and replaced by socially-minded cranks appointed by governmental authority, and that every line of travel should be laid down for all drivers, with every turn and detour prescribed by the same omniscient and omnipotent authority.

PROHIBITION FACING DEFEAT

Twenty-one States of the American Union have now voted against Prohibition. Fifteen more of the States must vote in the same way if the Eighteenth Amendment is to be rescinded; in other words, a three-quarters majority of thirty-six out of forty-eight States is necessary. This number will have voted before the end of the year and there is a possibility that by January 1 next Prohibition will have been formally rejected. Two of the States, however, which remain to vote this year are uncertain quantities. These are North Carolina and Utah. In the latter, the Mormons, because of their religious faith, are opposed to liquor being made more accessible. However, if North Carolina and Utah were both to affirm their faith in Prohibition there would still be the possibility of the necessary majority being obtained this year, that is provided Kentucky votes against Prohibition.

The States that will not vote during the present year will probably postpone their decision until late next Spring. In that event the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment, if not sanctioned by the end of the year, will be delayed perhaps for another twelve months. Congress is to meet in January. It will be so absorbed in the financial problem that it may not have much time to devote to the issue of a dry or wet law. The present intention is to hurry through the programme of Congress. The President wants to be left with a free hand. If, therefore, there is not a decisive verdict of three-fourths of the States against Prohibition by January 1 the matter must be left in abeyance, and new taxation proposals, to take the place of those anticipated from liquor, will have to be undertaken. They will be of a far sweeping character if the United States has any intention of balancing its Budget.

MORE SOBER NEWSPAPERS

The Government of Austria, in order to check abuses in the sensational press has issued regulations prescribing the size and varieties of type for the headlines and texts of news matter and articles on current affairs. Fettdruck ("fat-faced" type) is barred, but the semi "fat-faced" is allowed. The maximum breadth for headlines and cross-heads is fixed at 18 centimetres. It is decreed that when headlines extend over a single column of a page containing several columns they may have two, but not more than two lines. Offences against the new press regulations are punishable with a fine not exceeding $330.

The regulations have brought about a somewhat extraordinary change in the popular midday and evening papers of Vienna. It is difficult to recognize the more sensational newspapers in their sober garb. No type larger than the Continental 20-point is now used. The task of presenting the news in attractive guise has become a difficult one, though the new regulations undoubtedly have had the effect sought, namely, eliminating the flamboyant character of the yellow press. These restrictions on the press, however, are in the nature of a pioneer experiment. It is unlikely they can continue. Doubtless they constitute a part of the fight in Austria against Nazism, but as well they mean interference with the freedom for the press which in any country is a bad policy.

SUNSET

How hard the black trees lie
Against the setting sun,
As he reclines at ease
On silks of mauve and green
And flaming tapestries
Of elfin fabric spun!

Can ever that fair scene
Reveal to any one
Asking on bended knees
What all those wonders mean,
The silhouetted trees,
The sun upon his throne?

FIVE JUDGES ARE CHOSEN

Adjudicators for Agricultural Exhibits at Willows Made Known

Five judges were appointed yesterday for the field crops, fruit and vegetable sections of the Willows exhibition, to be held September 11 to 16 by the B.C. Agricultural Association, it was announced yesterday by W. H. Mearns, secretary.

Owing to the fact that four Mainland district exhibits already have been assured for the district displays to compete with Victoria, and possible other Island districts, great care was taken in the selection of the judges, Mr. Mearns stated.

Cecil Tice, of the Provincial Department of Agriculture, has been selected to judge the field crop displays. Four judges will handle the vegetables and fruits. They are W. H. Robertson, of the Provincial Department of Agriculture; H. H. Evans, district agriculturist at Vernon; E. W. White, and G. E. W. Clarke, agriculturist at Abbotsford.

FLORAL SECTION

In addition to fruits, vegetables and field crops, which will be displayed in what is known as the Main Building, there will be floral exhibits, the judge for which has yet to be announced. In connection with the floral section, the Victoria Dahlia Society will hold its annual show, so that there should be an outstanding display of dahlias for this year's Fair in addition to gladioli and chrysanthemums, which will be in the middle of their seasons.

Many improvements have been carried out in the Main Building, which will give exhibitors a much better opportunity this year of displaying their exhibits.

The time used is Pacific standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tide periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of low water.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Esquimalt drydock at any tide, add 18.9 feet to the height of high water as above given.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Banshees drydock add 30 feet to the height of high water as above given.

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

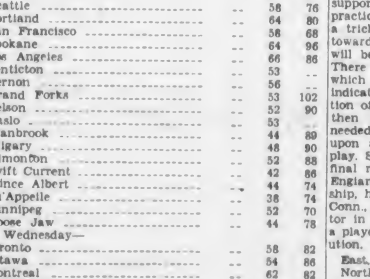
By Ely Culbertson

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

DIFFICULT PLAY

Most bridge players assume that if they hold a king without other supporting honors in either hand, practically the only chance to make a trick with it is to make a lead toward it and trust that the ace will be found on the "right" side. There are situations, however, in which the bidding and play clearly indicate that this fortunate location of the ace does not exist, and then the chance of making the needed trick with the king depends upon an entirely different line of play. Such a situation arose in the final rounds of the Southern New England team-of-four championship, held recently at New London, Conn., and was the determining factor in the winning of a match for a player who found the correct solution. The hand:

East, dealer.
North and South vulnerable.



The bidding: (Figures after bids refer to numbered explanatory paragraphs.)

East	South	West	North
Pass (1)	Pass	Pass (2)	1♡ (3)
Dbl. (4)	Redbl. (5)	Pass (6)	Pass
2♣	3♡ (7)	Pass	Pass
Pass

1—A poor pass. This hand should be bid, but the East player had adopted the theory that either his partner or opponents would protect his opening pass.

2—Obviously West is too weak to take any action.

3—The only justification for North's fourth hand bid is the possession of honors and the strong feeling that if he passes the hand out he will lose the match.

4—East now decides to enter the bidding.

5—With strong distributional values, South's redouble is clearly the best call.

6—Perhaps West should bid diamonds, but he decides that inasmuch as East had started the trouble he will let him find his own solution.

7—Possibly too strong, as, with a redouble, two hearts would be a very strong raise.

The opening lead was the diamond king, which was followed by the ace and another diamond, as East felt sure that his partner did not have a five-card diamond suit or he would have shown it in response to the takeout double. This was trumped in the dummy and two rounds of trumps were taken. Now the finesse in clubs was taken, and the ace of clubs laid down. The declarer returned to his own hand with a trump, picking up West's last trump, and then ruffed his last club in dummy. It was obvious to him that in addition to the ace-king-knave of diamonds, which East had already shown, and the king of clubs, East could not hold also the spade ace, so a lead to the king would serve no useful purpose. Instead, from the dummy he now led the spade four, and when West played low, put on the nine from his own hand. This trick East won with the ten, but could not play the cardsvin such a way as to prevent the declarer from winning two more tricks and thus fulfilling his contract—a result brought about by a careful plan, carefully carried out.

It will be noted that not only is the spade play, as outlined, essential, but the winning of the trump tricks and the ruffing of the club in dummy must also be carefully timed

GAME WARDENS

Sir,—In reply to Mr. Gidley's letter in Sunday's Colonist: Upon investigation, I find Mr. Gidley, as Mr. Kohout said, was "sternly requested to apply for his superannuation," but by "Father Time." It seems when Mr. Gidley many years ago applied for a job as game warden, he was compelled by a rule to state his age. In 1932, which was some time after he had passed the age limit, he, against his own free will, as he states (which was quite natural in hard times), applied for superannuation. His superannuation is found fault with by Mr. Kohout, who perhaps thinks $60 per month too much for a bachelor. I think otherwise, as any aged person in need, living twenty years in B.C., can get $20, whereas Mr. Gidley paid $7.60 per month into his superannuation fund. Mr. Kohout wrote: "to make room for two new game wardens." Mr. Gidley was succeeded by his junior game warden, who had been a game warden for years before. I defy Mr. Gidley or Mr. Kohout to name the two new game wardens they claim replaced Mr. Gidley.

155,000 MEALS SERVED AT INN

Capt. Burges J. Gadsden Issues Statement of Operation of Institution Here

Sunshine Inn has been in continuous operation since January 4, 1932, and since that time has provided more than 155,000 meals to applicants at the premises, 730 Pandora Avenue, of which 4,200 were to women and 26,000 to small children, Captain Burges J. Gadsden, founder and manager of the institution, declared in a statement issued yesterday.

Cash contributions to the Inn from April 4 to August 15 totalled $881.91.

The report issued by Capt. Gadsden refers to the many kind services being rendered the institution by the women of Victoria who have volunteered to serve meals, as many as sixty doing a share of the work in a single week. The institution has also had ready and willing cooperation from the men who have given their services for small gratuities. The founder and manager has given his services free since the institution was established.

In June there was a deficit of $110.13 and in July $133.89, due to falling off of donations. These deficits have been taken care of out of the reserve fund. Foodstuffs are constantly required.

In concluding his report, Captain Gadsden says: "The public has been most kind, among whom are the Lieut.-Governor of the province, Commodore Lindsay, Commander Silingsby, service organizations, clubs, societies and business firms as well as other individuals."

HOLIDAY MAKERS CROWD BEACHES

LADYSMITH, Aug. 17.—Tuesday set the record temperature of the year here, the mercury moving above 90 degrees. Wednesday was slightly cooler, with readings around 86 degrees.

The local beaches are constantly crowded, while the past three weeks of hot weather have given the well-known beaches on the other side of the bay a recurrence of the popularity of eight or nine years ago, when conditions were much healthier economically.

Shell Beach, more especially, is again the rendezvous for hundreds of holiday-makers from the neighborhood, and trim yachts and power cruisers from Victoria, Seattle and Vancouver are bringing their quotas to enjoy these favored retreats in sheltered waters.

SPEAKER AVERS ENGLAND LEADS

Old Country Doing Most for Return of Prosperity, Dr. T. A. Rickard Informs Victoria Clubmen

"As an American, I would like to say that England, the Mother Country of Canada and the United States of America, is doing the most to get the world out of its present economic difficulty," said Dr. T. A. Rickard, former president of the English-Speaking Union of California, in an address to members of the Rotary Club at their luncheon, yesterday, in the Empress Hotel.

"The object of the English-Speaking Union is to promote international good will and a bond of fellowship between English-speaking peoples of the world," he declared. Common language is a bond, he maintained. Seven million persons spoke the language in Shakespeare's time, while at present approximately one-third of the world's population uses English as its standard language or secondary language.

TARIFF WALLS

The speaker dwelt at length upon tariff walls between the United States and Canada. "Although we have no fortifications on the border, we have a huge wall between us—the tariff barrier," he declared. The speaker referred to William Randolph Hearst as "Mr. Worst," in dealing with men who were, in his opinion, a detriment to international good will. George Bernard Shaw was placed in that category by Dr. Rickard. He gave a brief resume of the commencement of the English language.

In discussing his own accent, which was decidedly Oxford in its intonation, the speaker pointed out that it was one of seventeen ways in which English is spoken in America. The policy of "Buy British," "Buy Canadian" and "Buy American" was wrong, declared Dr. Rickard. This only broke down the bonds of friendships between nations. "We must have co-operation to come out successfully," he observed in conclusion.

Imaginative Sinclair Mistakes Watchman For Turbaned Ghost

Passes Sleepless Night With Two Mosquitoes and No Quinine—Becomes Prey in Morning to Persistent Hawkers and Money-Lenders

BY GORDON SINCLAIR

MADRAS.—Did you ever toss, sleepless yet tired, in a strange bed, among queer jumpy noises and think you saw ghosts?

Well, I did last night. And I don't believe in ghosts.

The wind moaned through the palm vanes. Horses clattered on the cobble-stones. Green dates, blown from the palms, plopped noisily on the tin roof. Bats whined. Crows made raspy noises.

I lay under a net which had trapped two blood-thirsty mosquitoes and remembered I had no quinine. Fever kills one person in India every minute of every day of every year. One a minute. And I had no quinine.

I got up and staged a bug hunt, caught one black mosquito so heavy with my blood he couldn't fly. Still I couldn't sleep. The swaying curtains seemed to take on the shapes of men. Might be fever, I thought. Then I looked again. It was a man! A bearded man under a white turban. His face blended into the black shadows.

"What do you want?" The face moved silently, then disappeared. I got up and went on the veranda. Nobody there. I was the only one in the bungalow. Down at the high iron gate a Gurkha slept. A mongoose twisted his way along the porch like a land-going eel. I went back to bed.

103 IN SHADE

But no sleep came. It was two in the morning, 103 in the shade. I kept watching the dancing curtain; discovered, too, that all the windows were iron-barred. I dozed. With that creepy feeling that somebody was watching me, I awoke again and looked toward the back door where the moon trickled in. A black shadow was silhouetted there. I moved up on my elbows and heard bare feet go padding along the front veranda. The man at the back still stood silently staring.

"Hey, you, what's the idea?" The black shadow moved, turned and went out. I got up and followed in time to see him skim around the corner.

My shooting iron was miles away, locked up in a trunk. There was no telephone or buzzer for the servants. I lay thinking about ghosts or the terrorist movement or whatever this could be. A shrill whistle sounded somewhere out in the compound. Another whistle echoed it. Perhaps two hours later I was still awake, and once more that black face under the white puggree looked in. I yelled again but got no answer.

Somehow after that I fell sound asleep, but woke with a jump when somebody started pulling the curtains away. It was a Hindu bearing a pot of tea and some bananas. It was morning.

"Master frighten servants very much," the boy said reprovingly. "What servants, where?"

ONLY THE SERVANTS

"Night watchmans, Sahib. They find one door open. Then one more door open. Servants must watch you don't get die or maybe robbed. Servants stay in doorway but white man all naked and look like spook. He come out of bed and see black man in black dark. Servant man very frightened."

"So that's it?" "Well, they've got nothing on me, Mahatma; they scared me out of twenty-nine badly needed hairs."

Into the midst of this palaver walked the head man. "I must warn you, sir; never, never sleep with your doors unlocked. It is sheer suicide. You will be robbed, sir. Good morning." He went out again very portly and dignified.

The boy obligingly brought a lump of ice for the bath tub and shuffled away. Before I had a chance to splash into the chilled tub, two leather-vested northerners, sporting golden turbans and big fat clubs, came to the door, took off their gondola-shaped shoes, whipped out wallets bulging with cash and asked, "Sahib need money?"

TRY MANY TACTICS

"No, no money. I've got money." They smiled. That was a joke. They curled off bills invitingly and smiled some more. "Only 10 per cent for you, sahib. Hundred rupees, thousand rupees. Sahib want money?"

"No," I said, "I've got money." They smiled knowingly and went away. Soon the word spread up and down the fevered, fermenting market place. A sahib at the bungalow has money. Let's get him!

Up trooped yellow men of Kashmir with their shawls and cushions; with rubies and gold nuggets. In came silversmiths ready to pound me out a cocktail shaker or a beer mug while I waited. A youth brought around a brand new and shiny Japanese bicycle for $5.40. I tried out the bike and it worked like a charm. A woman of Benares shuffled in with dress lengths of pure-spun gold and a letter of merit from no less than Mary, Queen of England.

Two little girls sneaked in with a box of cigars and jabbered in Tamil. Men shooed them out again. Men clutched at me, fondled me, turned me this way and that, tossed strings of beads in my lap, medals—even a fake Victoria Cross—pills, Paris type postcards, bronze idols, hair oil, amulets to guard against snake bite. The room began to look like the Ladies' Aid were staging a rummage sale. Finally I eased all the lads out and discovered the girls had forgotten the cigars.

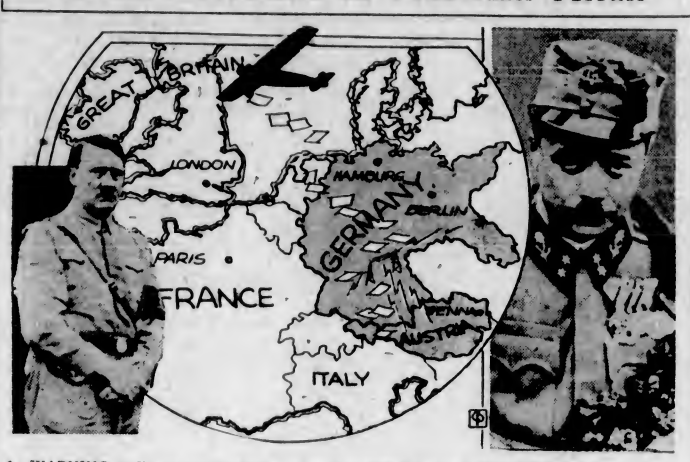
USURERS TRY AGAIN

In walked a bald-headed bogeyman with a huge mark smeared over his face. He was taking up a collection for a cow hospital. A cow hospital, can you go for that?

Before the last of the sales hounds was gone, the boys with the icy eyes and the leather vests were back again. If I didn't need cash before, I probably did now. They took off their gondolas again and pitter-pattered in, carelessly dropped some bills on the desk and handed me papers to be signed and sealed in four places. Business must surely be looking up when a man has to fight off the money lenders.

I pushed the boys in the cowhide shirts out into the sun and followed them. One last customer's man was lurking for me. He stepped out with a flourish and looped a red cord over my arm. On the end, tugging to break loose, was a fox-colored mongoose. The day starts pretty good.

Resents Rebuke in Austrian Affair



A WARNING to France and England that no interference will be tolerated has been issued by Chancellor Adolf Hitler, following a rebuke from the French Foreign Office to Hitlerites who have been "bombarding" Austria from the air with pamphlets attacking Chancellor Englebert Dolfuss, and radio broadcasts from Bavaria. Later Germany agreed to suppress the propaganda. France and England contend that the Nazi actions are a violation of the Versailles Treaty. At left, Chancellor Hitler; right, Chancellor Dolfuss.

SAYS REDUCTIONS IN WAGES LEGAL

Railway Heads, in Joint Statement, Express Conviction of Legality —Suit Is Threatened

MONTREAL, Aug. 17 (CP).—There is no question in the minds of railway officials with regard to the absolute legality of the wage reductions that the railways have been compelled to make as a result of present conditions, it was declared in a statement issued today by Acting President S. J. Hungerford, of the Canadian National Railways, and Vice-President Grant Hall, of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

The statement was made in reply to queries regarding the suit against the railways reported to have been threatened by Senator Murdock, vice-president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. "We would not, of course, allow deductions from wages of employees if we believed them to be illegal," the railways' statement said.

Old Rental Agreement Abandoned

OTTAWA, Aug. 17.—Canada has agreed to accept a capitalized amount, at 6 per cent interest, in payment of an annual sum for rental. The history of the transaction goes away back into the mists of history.

In a long and solemnly-worded order-in-council the Government sets out that the Jesuit Order has been paying for a portion of the Island of St. Ignace, Quebec, an annual rental of 57.5 cents. The obligations have been faithfully performed, but it has been rather irritating to the fathers of the Jesuit Order to have to travel to the Government offices each year to make payment of the trifling sum.

So, the fathers decided to offer to the Dominion the rent in a lump sum. The proposal was made, and it traveled by way of the various departments and officials, and finally reached the Minister of the Interior. He presented the matter to the Cabinet. These are days of financial stringency, so the ministers assembled seized upon the offer for a lump sum—and an order-in-council containing ninety-four printed lines in The Gazette in English, and an equal number in French, was passed—and the Federal Treasury received $9.58, which, capitalized at 6 per cent, will yield .5748 cents per year—and all is well.

Guns and Planes Come Into Action

SIMLA, India, Aug. 17 (AP).—British artillery and airplanes were employed yesterday to support troops, advancing from Ghalamai, who encountered hostile tribesmen north of Katsai.

The tribesmen subjected the bombing planes to the fire of a light machine gun, but there were no casualties among the flyers. The bombing was reported to have been effective. Subsequently, the troops retired unpursued to the Ghalamai camp.

NEW RECORD IS SET FOR CATTLE EXPORT

OTTAWA, Aug. 17.—A new record was established for Canada's export of cattle for the United Kingdom market in July last, says a report issued today by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. The number of animals shipped to Great Britain over one-year-old was 5,648, valued at $351,570. The previous highest month was May, when 5,127 head were shipped, with a value of $308,547.

These pictures will have their first showing on Monday evening, illustrating his story of the great fair. The address will commence at 8 o'clock. There will be no admission charge, although an offering to defray expenses will be taken.

$464 Required to Repair Dwellings

To repair five reverted soldiers' homes, approximately $464 would be required, it was reported at a meeting of Saanich Council last night. J. G. Little, municipal building inspector, presented the statement, which was referred to the finance committee for final consideration.

PICNIC ARRANGED

Final plans for the Army and Navy Veterans' picnic, to be held at the Chalet, Deep Cove, were completed last night at the general meeting of the organization. The date was set as September 4.

FOREST FIRE IS EXTENSIVE ONE

Hundreds of Acres at Kapoor Blackened—Film Scenes Are Shot

Fire in the Kapoor Logging Company's holding at Sooke was far more extensive than at first thought, it was learned yesterday after a tour of the fire lines had been made. Hundreds of acres of slashing and green timber have been blackened by the blaze, but the flames were well under control yesterday.

With 100 men still on the patrol line, it is expected that the area will be out of danger by today, although yesterday some more green timber was burned. There were some fine stands of heavy timber destroyed by the flames, but so far no estimate of the damage has been made.

Kenneth J. Bishop, and cameramen of the Commonwealth Productions, Ltd., shot scenes of the fire yesterday, including some views of the fire fighters in action. Some 400 feet of film were taken altogether, and this will be used for the forest fire scene, which provides a dramatic climax to "The Crimson West," to be produced by the local motion picture company.

Two Die in Fall Down Swiss Peak

ZERMATT, Switzerland, Aug. 17 (AP).—Two persons were killed in a plunge of 1,200 feet today after they climbed Mount Weisshorn, which is 14,800 feet high.

One of the dead was identified as the Swiss guide, Franz Lochmatter. The other was also believed to be a Swiss.

FUGITIVE MEETS DEATH IN WOODS

Is Shot Through Head When Examined Gun After Misfire When Aimed at Policeman

LASHBURN, Sask., Aug. 17.—Brought to bay in a bush after a thrilling auto chase, a man who was believed to be J. C. Riddle, of Edmonton, suspected of counterfeiting, met his death here, Wednesday afternoon, after an abortive attempt to kill Constable A. M. Hutchinson, R.C.M.P.

Firing two shots in the air, the policeman called upon the fugitive to surrender. The man aimed a gun at Hutchinson, pulled the trigger, but it failed to fire. Turning the muzzle toward his own head, the man appeared to be examining the weapon when it discharged. A bullet in the head brought instant death.

Hutchinson had picked up the fugitive's trail near Soda Lake, after receiving a call that a suspected counterfeiter was motoring in that direction.

GANDHI STARTS FAST TO DEATH

Indian Leader Refuses to Accept Conditions of Imprisonment at Yeroda Jail

POONA, India, Aug. 17 (AP).—The Mahatma Gandhi carried on his fast unto death tonight while Government officials continued efforts to get the prisoner to resume his frugal meals. It was reported as improbable the Bombay Government will extend privileges it already offered to Gandhi, but communications were still being sent between London and Simla.

Gandhi started the fast last night by refusing his evening meal as a protest to restrictions placed on him in Yeroda jail. The Bombay Government then offered certain concessions, but announced today these had been unacceptable to Gandhi.

REFUSES TO ACCEPT NON-CONFIDENCE VOTE

QUITO, Ecuador, Aug. 17 (AP).—President Juan Martinez Mera sent a special message to Congress today, refusing to accept a vote of non-confidence in his Cabinet.

The executive yesterday refused to accede to a request that he resign. Opposition Congressmen charged the President was elected fraudulently.

American Faces German Sentence

BREMERHAVEN, Germany, Aug. 17 (AP).—Charles Manger, a Los Angeles youth, faced a deferred sentence of three months after payment of a fine of 3,000 marks ($960) today, for the accidental slaying of his friend, Karl Werner Heye III, of New York, on the liner Bremen, July 30.

WESTERN WAYS NOT TO ORIENTAL TASTE

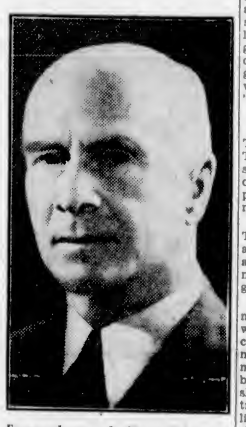
BANFF, Aug. 17 (CP).—"What is there in American chewing gum or ballroom flirtations which deserves our imitation?" asked an Oriental member of the Institute of Pacific Relations here today. "We have a way of life all our own, though it has many faults. It is not easy for us to believe we should follow your path if it means cosmetics, moving pictures and tabloid papers."

Why Doctors Order Light Exercise After 45

IT is not a medical whim that doctors so often order light exercise to men over 45. For more than 90% of men and women at forty-five, and for 60% at forty, it is dangerous to exercise strenuously. A humiliating admission for civilized society to make, for it is a situation that need not be.

Scientists now hold that the "potential life of man is 187 years". The Bible and Zoology place the age of man at 120 years. A great scientific authority says, "Science knows of no reason why man should ever die, for his tissues constantly renew themselves. It is only that poisonous accumulations in his tissues destroy or prevent function that causes man to die."

Yet man has power to control largely the degree of poisonous accumulation in his body and thus control his length of life, also his health during his lengthened life. Men and women sin against their bodies with every breath and thus make exercise dangerous after forty or forty-five. Their chief sin pertains to foods and feeding habits.



From a photograph of Robt. G. Jackson, M.D., at 75. After eighteen years of increasing decrepitude, Dr. Jackson at 50 was given only four months to live by the great Sir Wm. Osler. By natural living habits and the use of alkaline foods, Dr. Jackson is today, at 75, able to do anything the average healthy man in his early thirties can do.

I sinned thus in earlier years and was a "down-and-out"—an old "has-been" at thirty-two—and dying from forty-five to fifty. But at fifty I changed my food and other living habits and now take on daily exercises, in my seventy-sixth year, that are more strenuous than would be safe for 75% of men and women at thirty-five. At seventy-five I flout disease, dare it to attack me, do it safely, because I obey the laws of nature governing health.

Science shows that 80% of our food intake must be natural, vital and alkali-forming if we would be vital and youthful after forty-five and able to continue strenuous exercises after seventy-five. But the food intake of conventional civilized people is 98½% denatured, devitalized and acid-forming, which is why doctors find it unsafe for so many of their patients to exercise after they are forty-five. The accumulated residues from such foods have burned out the cells that build the body, and at thirty-five to forty-five the heart and other vital organs formed out of these devitalized cells cannot put forth great functional effort, save at the risk of collapse and death.

Proper foods are one-fifth of the means at our disposal for attaining such physical perfection that we can challenge disease. Proper skin care, exercise, sleep and mental control will do the rest. I observe all the health laws that rule these several groups of functions, and I safely challenge disease.

How do I feed myself? Very simply! And only simple diet can be natural, vital and alkali-forming.

Each day I have one full, large meal of Roman Meal, Bekus-Puddy or Lishus, made thick enough to chew thoroughly, served with milk, cream or butter; a second meal is a large salad, and bread, muffins, or pudding made from one of the three cereals named, with butter and honey; a third meal consists of salad with grated cheese or nuts or cottage cheese. For this meal lightly steamed vegetables may be substituted for salad, and the meat, or egg-eater may substitute these for cheese, nuts, etc. Sweet dried or juicy fruits, berries, etc., form my desserts, and Kofy-Sub is my only beverage, served always with brown sugar and evaporated milk—as it always should be served.

Anyone who will adopt this diet before real organic destruction has set in from using wrong foods, can exercise as strenuously as at twenty-five, and he can do so until he is long past seventy-five, as I shall surely continue to do.

Yes, I do work harder for far longer hours, and exercise far more strenuously, at seventy-five, than 95% of men can do at thirty-five. And I constantly defy disease—do it on the lecture platform before the public, do it now! And I am safe in doing it so long as I obey the health laws of nature.

There is hardly anyone who reads this message who cannot do the same if he or she will feed him or herself as I do, and thus obey nature's health laws and obtain nature's great reward for such obedience—HEALTH and immunity from disease. These foods are our best summer as well as our best winter foods. Don't doubt—try these foods and prove the statement true.

Prospectors Head North to New Ontario Find

A GOLD rush, reported to be as important as the discovery at Porcupine, Ont., has led many prospectors to travel by foot or air to the new scene near Gogama, Ont., where gold has been found in rich deposits. Here are shown scenes from the "strike" area, which is territory around Lake Beaver, Lake Minisinakwa and Duck Lake. The new mining town is known as Swayze City. At left is E. T. Corkhill and Cyril T. Knight, of Toronto, with the white quartz rock which they uncovered. It contains splashes of yellow gold, and is claimed to be the best pay dust found in the new area. Upper right shows prospectors boarding a plane at Lake Minisinakwa for a flight to Three Lake. Lower right shows Joe LaFlamme, famous musher and prospector of the north, who once drove a dog team down Broadway in in New York, playing stud poker with some of his pals at Lake Beaver.

RECIPROCITY IS LIBERAL PLANK

Mackenzie King Would Have Agreement at Once With the United States

KELVINGTON, Sask., Aug. 17 (CP).—Mackenzie constituency has an opportunity to say to Premier R. B. Bennett, "We don't like these high tariffs, and, if you continue them, we won't support you," Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King said here tonight.

What we want are wider markets, he declared, with strong emphasis. If the Liberal party had been in power, we would not have been wondering today if we were to have reciprocity with United States. But with Mr. Bennett in power, Canada did not know yet.

LIBERALS' STAND

The Liberal party stood for reciprocal trade with any country willing to trade with Canada.

"You didn't know now where Mr. Bennett stands on the question of reciprocal agreement with United States," continued Mr. King.

"I say we should have such an agreement tonight if we could get it but will anyone here tell me how Mr. Bennett stands. If so, I wish he would tell me and tell the press. Mr. Bennett has never declared himself yet."

The Liberal leader commented on tragic conditions of drought and insect pest, which he had found in the south. People of Mackenzie now had an opportunity to declare for lower tariffs and wider markets which might assist the farmer of the south.

State Girl's Death Due to Misadventure

KENT, Eng., Aug. 17 (AP).—Jean Chesterton, seventeen-year-old London girl, who was killed Tuesday by an aerial air force machine gunner, who mistook her rowboat for a target, met death by a "misadventure," a coroner's jury decided today. The jury suggested that a line of red danger buoys be placed to guard against future accidents and recommended that the air minister be asked to put a fast motorboat in the range area during firing practice.

Air Craftsman John Boahemia, a Birmingham mail carrier, who killed the girl, testified it was his first flight with a live gun.

Circling the string of buoys for the first time, Boahemia fired a burst of bullets and did not notice that he had aimed at a boat until Miss Chesterton's sister, who was with her, began rowing.

SEA MONSTERS VISIT HALIFAX

Shark, White Porpoise and Swordfish Are Reported in Harbor

HALIFAX, Aug. 17 (CP).—Bathers seeking refuge from the heat in the cool waters of the North West Arm and Bedford Basin were startled to hear that monsters of the deep had been their companions.

A fifteen-foot shark was reported by Dr. R. A. Mackenzie, Dr. Vladikov and Charles Kearney, of the Biological Station, who were doing hydrographic work in the basin when the big fish jumped at an anchor they were hauling out of the water. Lacking the necessary gear, they were unable to capture it.

The first white porpoise ever sighted around Halifax (as far as can be learned), was seen off a waterfront pier by Pilot Frank Mackey as he was preparing to take the Norwegian freighter Braa to sea.

A big swordfish was captured by the schooner Naomi Ruth off Sandwich Battery, a mile and a half from the entrance to North West Arm.

CLAIMS RECORD FOR ONE-MAN CROSSING

NEW YORK, Aug. 17 (AP). — Marin Marie, French painter of seascapes, claimed a record for a one-man crossing of the Atlantic under sail today on his arrival from Brest in the thirty-six-foot sloop Winnie Belle II.

M. Marie covered 2,850 miles in his crossing by way of Madeira, Dominica and Port de France, Martinique.

He sailed from Brest May 10. The famous Captain Slocum, in the Spray, crossed from Cape Sable to Lisbon in twenty-eight days. Although M. Marie took twenty-nine days' actual sailing time, he claims he sailed 250 miles more than did Captain Slocum.

Letters to the Editor

SOFTBALL PLAY-OFFS

To the Sports Editor:

Sir,—It appears in the press today that the final games for the Island championship are to take place next Sunday, Tuesday, and Thursday if necessary. It is to be very much regretted that Sunday is chosen as one of the days, for two reasons. Firstly, Sunday is, above all, a day of rest and should not be given over to sport of any kind. There are six days in the week besides Sundays to play any game, and this is plenty, and should be adhered to. Then, the second reason is that those two sterling players on the Victoria team, namely, the Chapman brothers, will not play on Sundays, for which they must be admired. Consequently, it will be a very weakened team that will play Shawnigan Lake on Sunday, and Victoria is pretty sure to lose. Now, this is an important series, and Victoria cannot afford to take chances on a weak team. We want the strongest team possible, so I, among others, appeal to the officials in charge to have Sunday omitted from the schedule, and in its place substitute some other day—Saturday evening or afternoon or Wednesday afternoon or evening—so that the full and proper team can all play and be there to do their best to win further laureis for our city.

BEAVER DOCKED

From Great Lakes and St. Lawrence River ports, the freighter Ss. Beaver docked at the Island Tug & Barge Company's pier in the Inner Harbor shortly after 10 o'clock last night. Cargo was discharged during the night, and the ship was to proceed to Mainland ports as soon as the Victoria cargo was landed. The ship has 100 tons of general for the port, and two carloads of motor cars. The Beaver is in the service of the Great Lakes-Intercoastal Line, with Harry Stuart as local representative.

At midnight, yesterday, the French Line motorship Washington shifted to Vancouver. The liner will return here Monday, on her way to sea, and take on additional lumber, not being able to get the entire footage and stock required until the first of the week.

TAKES PLACE OF ARETHUSA

Bark Peking, Rechristened by Prince of Wales, Retains Same Name

Last month the Prince of Wales, at an inauguration ceremony, "launched" the new Arethusa on her career of continuing, and perhaps expanding, the work of her predecessor during the past sixty years.

In 1874, thanks to the aid of the Baroness Burdett-Coutts, the old Arethusa moved off Greenhithe for the purpose of training poor and destitute lads for careers in the navy and merchant service. During these years, 3,554 boys have joined the Royal Navy and 6,975 have been drafted in the Mercantile Marine.

The old Arethusa already had a magnificent record when she became a training ship. Laid down as a fifty-gun frigate in 1845, she took part in the Crimean War, where she had the distinction of being the last of the fleet to go into action entirely under sail. The exploit was at the bombarding of Odessa. She also suffered severely at the bombardment of Sebastopol.

Her place has now been taken by the four-masted bark Peking, of 3,191 tons. Built in 1911, she has rounded the Horn many times. In the distribution of the spoils of war she was awarded to Italy, and was returned to her original owner in 1923, from whom she was purchased recently for £6,250 and rechristened Arethusa. The training of the 200 boys which she now houses will continue on the same lines as in her predecessor at Upnor, on the Medway, the old moorings at Greenhithe being required for trade expansion.

The new ship has cost £24,000 and there is still a sum of £8,700 to pay. To be clear of debt, £14,000 is required, a sum which, if considerable, is small if measured in terms of benefit to high-spirited but destitute boys, whose great ambition is to serve their country at sea.

Building Sailing Vessels for Coal Trade in Britain

Negotiations are now under way for the construction in British shipyards of new windjammers for the coal trade between Newcastle-on-Tyne and the Baltic ports.

Captain Sophus Johnsen, a retired Danish shipmaster of Aarhus, recently in London, has the negotiations in hand.

"It is still economical to run sailing ships wherever one can find imperishable cargoes, he told London newspaper men. "Captain Erickson, of Marierhann, has proved it with the grain fleet.

"No one disputes the quality of British-built ships any more than anyone disputes the fact that Scandinavians are today the most competent to run sailing ships. You build the ships and we shall sail them."

CANADIAN STEAMSHIP COMPANY CLAIMS BLUE RIBAND OF ATLANTIC

MONTREAL, Aug. 17 (CP). — Wigs are on the green here following the claim by the Italian Line that the blue riband of the Atlantic has been captured by the liner Rex. According to a statement issued by the Canadian Pacific Steamships, "It is a fine achievement, but five hours and thirty-one minutes short of the record made thirteen months ago by the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Britain, which crossed from Cherbourg to Father Point, the Quebec pilotage station, in four days, eight hours and twenty-seven minutes.

NOT MUCH ALLURING ABOUT MANATEES IS VERDICT OF CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Aug. 17 (AP).—There's nothing alluring about mermaids, Chicagoans learned when they viewed a pair of manatees which went on exhibition at the Field Museum of Natural History today.

The manatees, strange marine animals which are credited with beginning those old saits' tales concerning beautiful sirens of the deep, are shaped somewhat like mistreated sausages, are virtually bald, bewhiskered and have hair lips.

Miss Burley, on behalf of the local staff, presented the above with a cut glass flower vase and a cut glass sugar and cream, respectively. The 13th Platoon, D Company of the 16th Canadian Scottish, were recent hosts at a most successful dance given in the Mahon Hall, Ganges. The function was attended by 175 guests and was thoroughly enjoyed. The hall looked most attractive with its numerous flags, evergreens and Summer flowers. The decorations were in the hands of the commander, Lieut. Desmond Crofton, and the men of the 13th Platoon, who also provided and organized the supper. During the dance short congratulatory speeches were made by Major Henderson and Captain R. D. Harvey. The latter then asked Colonel W. W. Foster, O.C. 23rd Infantry Brigade, who had been specially invited to attend the dance by the Saltspring Platoon, to speak. Colonel Foster tendered thanks for the invitation, congratulated the platoon and their commander on the enthusiastic manner in which they had undertaken their duties, and stated in the course of his remarks that the idea that military training encouraged a desire for war was erroneous and that a country prepared for all eventualities was the greatest factor possible in the interest of peace. Several of the men from the Duncan platoon attended the dance.

WIFE FOR SALE

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

CHAPTER XVIII

And, after all, the real sum and climax of Norah's troubles was that she was married to Barry Dunsmuir. All very well to talk of annulling and "not going through with it," and to say that there could easily be some arrangement made. It must be easy to slip out of such an affair, but the stark truth remained: she was married to him. That was on her record for life, whatever she did: her swift and secret marriage to a man she hardly knew, who had immediately departed on a long and dangerous journey, leaving her to face the music as best she might. She had never had an opportunity to love him, she had barely liked him; he might, upon his return, prove to be completely hateful to her, they might actively dislike each other. And still she would be married to him, and all her casuistry and courage could not wriggle her free.

Deliverance from at least one of these burdens came unexpectedly on a certain exquisite September day some two weeks after Mrs. Dunsmuir's visit. Norah, flashing out to the porch upon one of her endless morning errands, discovered a majestic, grey-headed old man comfortably seated there, fanning himself with a palm-leaf fan.

"Did you wish—but—I know you, I'm afraid I've forgotten—no, I haven't. Isn't it Judge Bailey?"

"Why, God bless me!" the man said bewilderedly, turning to scrutinize her more keenly. "Do we know each other?"

"Mr. Dunsmuir took me to your office last December. You were in the office, in the office of Coates & Goldman, last December when I was there with Barry Dunsmuir."

"Why, so I was—so I was," he said, enlightened. "So you are the Miss Oliver I've heard so much about. And I never identified you with the girl who came in with Barry—poor Barry. Sad thing! Sad thing!"

"Have you heard so much about me?" Norah asked curiously.

"His aunt—his cousin, the Dunsmuirs—very old friends of mine," the old man explained significantly. "They've been making a good deal of fuss, in one way and another, about your staying here. They're in a great hurry to settle up the poor boy's affairs."

"But how can they do that if he isn't dead?"

"They can't legally. But I suppose the presumption—the presumption is that he is dead."

"Well, I know—" Norah said, and paused on the stubborn phrase. "They came here and told me they want me to get out," she said, "and he wanted me to stay here. He intended to live here, you know. He was going to write a book."

"He was going to marry this nice little Swann girl—Hazel's friend."

"Had he told you so?" Norah asked.

A quizzical smile narrowed the old man's eyes. "Didn't you see that story in the papers?"

"Oh, she told me so, for that matter," Norah said.

"And you didn't believe it?"

Norah made no answer. She was thinking.

"Well," said Judge Bailey, rubbing his head, "it struck me as odd, too. Very unlike the boy, and I knew him well. It didn't seem to me he would ever marry anyone."

"He wouldn't marry two women at once anyway," Norah submitted.

There was a silence. The old man looked at her steadily. "You and he were engaged, my dear?" he presently inquired respectfully.

"Not engaged. Married."

Another pause, during which they continued to look full at each other.

"Mr. Barry Dunsmuir married?"

"We were married on December twenty-seventh, the day before he went away."

After a while Judge Bailey said: "Why, I had no idea of his intention to marry. His will—it was filed in our office—made no mention of a wife. But to be sure that was some months before he sailed.

"He said something—that last day—of changing his will, or making a new will, I remember."

"He didn't. My gracious!" ejaculated the old man. "This is a complication. You and Barry, eh? Had known each other some time, eh?"

"Only a short time. Only a week or ten days, really. It was—it wasn't—the usual sort of—engagement," explained Norah, flushing brightly, fumbling for words. "He—he isn't—wasn't like anyone else about it. I was—well, we were having hard times, horrible times, my mother and sister and brother and I, and we lived in a dreadful place. I was sort of desperate. Keith—my brother—had lost his job and I had lost mine, and it—it interested Barry. It was like a problem to him, something he could solve."

"Exactly. That was the boy," the old man agreed, watching her intently, nodding his grey head.

"He said he didn't believe the usual love-making was necessary—or at least that it was any sign of a happy marriage."

"You met him—where?"

"He answered an advertisement of mine."

"Barry did?"

"Well, it wasn't the usual thing; not as a stenographer exactly. It was more that I was—I was up against it, I would do any anything—anything honorable, that is—for someone to help my mother, take some of the load. Keith, my brother, was in love, and he couldn't think of anything but himself and Anne, and my sister Evelyn was just nineteen, and mother sick—"

"You said you would even marry such a man, eh?"

"Well," Norah spoke hesitatingly, "if I liked him."

Judge Bailey's face brightened into a smile. "And you did like Barry?"

"It wasn't so much that as that he was eager to try the experiment. He said he wanted just that—a wife, companionship. He doesn't like cities and crowds, and he said he didn't want the responsibility of keeping house. He told me that his uncle had left him this place—Foxaway——"

Norah stopped. She glanced up at the bulk of the old farmhouse above and behind her. "I love it!" she said in a low voice as if she spoke only to herself.

The old man was thinking.

"But then this other girl, Lucille—Lucille Swann. What about her?"

"I don't think he ever paid her the slightest attention. I don't know anything about it, of course. But she never told the other girl, Hazel, anything about her engagement until—well, until there was reason to think Barry wouldn't come back."

"Ha!" ejaculated Judge Bailey. "I'm staying over here at the Lake with my wife and daughter," he presently added, "and Mrs. Dunsmuir asked me to have a talk with you. I'm poor Barry's executor, of course."

"They want me to get out?"

"They had some idea of spending the rest of the month and October here; there are books here, old family things——"

He paused. "But this news of yours," he went on, rubbing his chin thoughtfully, "this places a different—a different complexion on the whole thing. Married, eh? Well, you— you surprised me."

"My own mother doesn't know," said Norah.

"You own mother? But then," pursued the judge, "was it the idea that when poor Barry did come back, you and he should announce it?"

"He was hardly sure that he would go at all, judge, when we—decided it." Norah hesitated. "His going has made it all difficult," she said. "If he had come back, I don't know quite what we should have done. It—our getting married was a sort of dare, an impulse——"

"Barry having had this idea that marriage could be arranged that way, in the European way, on a perfectly commonsense basis," the old man formulated it, as she fell silent, "advertised for a stenographer and then picked the one he liked, and put his—his proposal to her?"

"Not quite that," Norah said uncomfortably, with a little nervous laugh. "It—it really came from me. I don't think he would have thought of it. I said that to have mother taken care of and to have a home, I'd marry—oh, not anyone, but any man who—who impressed me as being good and honest. I said I'd make a home for him and take care of him and his children."

The judge fell into deep thought, his fine old mouth half smiling.

"Yes, that's exactly what Barry would do; that's the kind of thing that would have appealed to him," he said. "But he was a fine fellow," he said warmly. "He was a fine fellow; he was one of the best."

"Afterward, when he had the chance to go off with Dr. Sassoon," "Norah pursued, warming herself to her companion's sympathy, "it all seemed so much less of a joke—our marriage, I mean. I came up here—" her loving eyes wandered over the rich beauty of the old farm, the deep-foliaged trees.

"It's surely a pretty old place," the judge said.

"It's changed me, everything about me," Norah said, not looking at him, speaking as if she were merely thinking aloud. "I've cooked and washed and raked and prunel; I've painted and sewed and gathered eggs and mixed feed for chickens and cows here; I've washed dishes and churned milk and ironed handkerchiefs—I've lived here—loving it——"

IT PAYS TO BUY AT "THE BAY"

"GETTING THE DICKENS"

Sometime, somewhere, from somebody, we all get "the Dickens." And those who become prominent get it more than others.

There seems to be a common misconception that "getting the Dickens" is a modification or abbreviation of "getting the devil." It is not. It is a harmless, legitimate and respectable expression that may be used with impunity in the best of company. It is simply an allusion to our old friend Charles Dickens.

Though immortal as a novelist, Dickens was well known in his own time as a newspaper man. So vitriolic is he said to have been in his attacks on faulty public officials or other prominent men that gradually it came to be said when anyone was criticized by him, that he "got the Dickens."

KETTENBACH TO MEET ABBOTT FOR GOLF TITLE

English Cadet Scores Possible in First Stage of Governor-General's Shoot

David Wisner Puts On Perfect Score In Opening Stage

Wales' Marksman Registers First Possible in Ten Years at Dominion Meet—Emslie Second With 103—Thirteen B.C. Men Qualify

CONNAUGHT RANGES, Ont., Aug. 17 (CP). — Young Cadet David M. R. Winser, of Aberdovey, Wales, and of Winchester, one of the Imperial cadets who came to Canada for the Ontario and Canadian rifle meetings, shot like a streak today to post a perfect score on all ranges of the qualifying stage of the Governor-General's Match — the Canadian King's Prize.

Winser scored 105, highest possible, in the qualifying stage to get the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association's silver medal and lead the way into the final shoot, Saturday. It was the first perfect score in this match in ten years.

Indication of the quality of the marksmanship displayed by the young cadet was the fact the veteran Company Sergeant-Major G. M. Emslie, of Toronto, one of the finest shots Canada ever produced, ranked second to him with 103.

A fine team of veteran shots, representing Ontario, won the London Merchants' Trophy. The team aggregated 715 points out of a possible 800 at the longest ranges of the entire meeting, 900 and 1,000 yards, to take the classic trophy and first prize of $50.

B.C. TEAM THIRD

Second to the Ontario team was the New Brunswick marksmen, while the British Columbia team was third, scoring 706. Alberta's team was fourth with 703, Quebec fifth with 696, Manitoba sixth with 679, and Saskatchewan seventh with 665.

C. J. A. Young, Vancouver, with a score of 216, won the D.C.R.A. gold medal for first in the service revolver championship. Sergeant J. D. O'Connell, R.C.M.P., Fredericton, was second with 215.

Among those placing third in the qualifying stage of the Governor-General's Match was D. C. Brereton, Winnipeg, who scored 102 out of a possible 105. Sergeant W. Mulhall, of Weyburn, Sask., was among the group tying for fourth place with a score of 101.

B.C. QUALIFIERS

British Columbians who qualified in the Governor-General's shoot follow: Lieut.-Col. H. F. G. Letson, 100; Sgt. A. E. Ashe, 100; Cpl. H. L. Taylor, 99; Major G. C. Holland, 99; Sgt. J. H. Regan, 98; Lieut.-Col. R. M. Blair; Sgt. T. R. Davies, 98; Capt. D. F. Fyvie, 97; Gnr. C. Rasmussen, 97; A.C.Q. J. A. Young, 97; Sgt. L. C. Willoughby, 96; Q.M.S.I. W. H. Wood, 96.

In the competition for the Jubilee Cup, shot concurrently with the first stage of the Governor-General's Match, M.D. No. 6, M.D. No. 11 and M.D. No. 4 all tied with totals of 781, but finished in the above order by checking back on the best score at the longest range.

In the London Merchants' team shoot, Ontario took first place, with British Columbia in third place, nine points behind the leaders. The team was coached by Lieut.-Col. R. M. Blair.

A.C.Q. J. A. Young, of the R.C.A.F. (N.P.), Vancouver, won the service revolver championship, taking first money and the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association gold medal.

Bike Marathon Halted by Rain; Final on Sunday

MONTREAL, Aug. 17 (CP). —Rain tonight caused postponement of the finish of the international bicycle race. It was to have taken place tonight in the form of a 100-kilometre race around the Montreal Baseball Stadium. The event will now be held Sunday night. Joe Laporte, of Montreal, was leading by 23 seconds.

PLAY-DOWNS IN BASEBALL OPEN SEPT. 1

North Shore Will Meet Victoria in First of B.C. Play-Offs

VANCOUVER, Aug. 17 (CP).— British Columbia Senior A baseball play-offs open September 1, with a series between the North-Shore winners and the Victoria League champions. These teams will battle in a two-out-of-three series, the first two games to be played in Victoria on the first and second of next month, Secretary Stan Smith, of the B.C.A.B.A. announced today. The winners oppose the Terminal League champions with the ultimate survivors opposing the Senior City League kings in the provincial finals.

None of the Senior City League teams may strengthen up but North Shore, Victoria and Terminal squads may bolster their line-ups with four players from teams in their own league.

The Senior B play-offs open this month, probably on August 26, with the City Senior B champions battling the Twilight League winners. The survivors of this series battle the Dewdney Triangle League champions with Port Alberni meeting the winners. The Senior B teams may fill up, if necessary, with one other player from a team in their own league.

Three English Girls Win Way to Quarters

Dorothy Round, Betty Nuthall and Mary Heeley Advance in U.S. Tennis Championships—Mrs. Moody and Helen Jacobs Also Move Up

FOREST HILLS, N.Y., Aug. 17 (AP). — The women's United States tennis championship moved into the quarter-finals and a step nearer its normal conclusion.

The peak crowd was out today as usual to watch Helen dispose of Mrs. L. R. C. Michell, a very good British player, by scores of 6-1, 6-2.

Helen Jacobs, the defending champion, had a pretty tough time disposing of little Miss Freda James, of England, 6-3, 6-4. Alice Marble, the blonde slugger from San Francisco, advanced easily at the expense of Mrs. Carolyn Hirsch, of White Plains, N.Y., 6-0, 6-2. Sarah Palfrey eliminated Mrs. A. J. Lamme, Jr., of Rye, N.Y., 6-0, 6-2. Josephine Cruickshank, of Santa Anna, spilled one of England's young hopes, Peggy Scriven, by scores of 6-1, 6-2.

England's three top-seeded stars came through safely. Dorothy Round eliminated Mrs. Marjorie Gladman Van Ryn, of Philadelphia, 6-2, 6-1. Betty Nuthall disposed of Caroline Babcock, Los Angeles, 6-4, 6-4, and her teammate, Mary Heeley, subdued Baroness Maud Levi, New York, 6-4, 7-5.

SHIELDS WHIPS FRANKIE PARKER

Milwaukee Youth Loses to New Yorker—Perry and Mate Are Beaten in Doubles

NEWPORT, R.I., Aug. 17 (AP).— The hopes of Frankie Parker, seventeen-year-old tennis player from Milwaukee, who needs an important victory on grass to complete his amazing record, were blighted by Frank X. Shields today, while the rangy New Yorker was marching into the semi-final round of the Newport Casino tournament. Shields defeated him, 2-6, 6-4, 7-5.

The other three top-seeded players also entered the round of four. Ellsworth Vines, United States titlist, seeking his third straight Casino victory, won from Lester Stoefen, lanky Los Angeles star, who defaulted after Vines ran through the first set at 6-1.

Clifford Sutter, of New Orleans, subdued Gregory Mangin, of Newark, in straight sets, 6-4, 6-2, 7-5, and Wilmer Allison of Austin, Texas, eliminated Keith Gledhill, Santa Barbara, 3-6, 5-7, 6-4, 6-0.

The draw will throw Allison against Sutter tomorrow in the upper half semi-final, and Shields will have the unenvied honor of tackling Vines.

Fred Perry, British Davis Cup ace, competing in the doubles field with the chunky Frank F. D. Wilde, suffered a defeat from the racquets of George Lott and Stoefen, as the Americans entered the semi-finals with a 6-2, 6-2 victory.

Vines and Gledhill, defending champions, found Jack Tidball and Gene Mako, Los Angeles, easy victims for a 6-1, 7-5 triumph.

BLACKPOOL, England, Aug. 17 (CP). — The tourist West Indian cricketeers today scored 152 runs in the second innings of their game against Sir Lindsay Parkinson's XI. The visitors had a first-innings score of 165 and Sir Lindsay's XI 116. The [illegible] team had scored 30 for loss of no wickets when play closed for the day.

Important Game Set Tonight in Baseball League

SONS of Canada and Cameron's Lumber will battle in a sudden-death fixture this evening at the Royal Athletic Park at 6 o'clock in the Senior Amateur Baseball League for a bye in the local play-offs. The survivor of the game will take a rest and wait for the winners of the Slingers vs. the survivor of tonight's battle. With such an important game scheduled, one of the biggest crowds of the season is expected and a first-class exhibition should be witnessed.

GRAY LINERS SCORE CLOSE BALL VICTORY

Heavy Hitting in Last Frame Brings Busmen Through to an 9-to-8 Decision

With Bun Cox smacking a long circuit blow in the final frame, coupled with a double by Percy Fitzsimmons and a single by Bill Cox, "Rebel" Mowat's Gray Line gang had a narrow escape from defeat, last night, at Beacon Hill Park, when they met the Ice-Dogs in an exhibition charity baseball game. The busmen won out finally by a 9 to 8 score in six innings, and put down their victory to the trio of sluggers mentioned above.

Before the teams took the field, Ralph Alcock, former comedian at the ice arena, put on a few comedy stunts for the benefit of the fans. Blocks of ice were placed around the base, and Ralph jaunted around on a pair of ice skates, while snowballs were pelted at him from angles by the players involved. However, Ralph managed to survive, and skated into the home plate as if he was walking into the nineteenth hole at a golf club. The Gray Line players arrived donned in clown suits, and Ernie Maynard's goat. The animal was paraded around the field, as the fans roared in laughter at the antics of the comedians. Over 1,000 candies were distributed to the kiddies, while the sum of $47.66 was collected.

TAKE LEAD

Both teams scored once in the first, but the former puckchasers tallied three times in the last of the second to take a 4 to 3 lead. A scoreless third was passed along. In the fourth the taximen scored four times to the Ice-Dogs' two. Each team registered twice in the last canto, with the Gray Liners winning out by a lone run after a great battle.

"Cotton" Brynjolfson and Eddie Hall handled the game to the best of their ability, and the teams follow:

Gray Line—Macedo, Fitzsimmons, Bill Cox, Lineham, Smith, Mowat, Ross, Bun Cox and Veitch.

Ice-Dogs — Dowman, Glazen, Woodhouse, Copas, G. Straith, Alex Straith, Watson, McQuade, Cook and King.

IDAHO STAR WILL MEET BELLINGHAM GOLFER FOR CROWN

Former Puts Out J. J. Dempsey, Tacoma, at Twenty-Second Hole, While Latter Eliminates Colonel Fell, Defending Champion, 2 and 1—Finals Carded Today

From the brow of Colonel J. P. Fell, Vancouver, was swept the grand championship of the Seniors' Northwest Golf Association yesterday at the Oak Bay links when he bowed to W. H. Abbott, Bellingham, after a great tussle, 2 and 1. For his opponent today, Abbott will have W. F. Kettenbach, Lewiston, Idaho, who won from J. J. "Jack" Dempsey, Tacoma, at the twenty-second green. The final will be over eighteen holes, and a close match is expected all the distance, with a good gallery in pursuit.

R. W. Gibson, the Victoria veteran, will defend his class "A" crown against F. R. Stewart, Vancouver, while the class "B" final will be an all-Victoria argument, with J. E. Wilson facing Captain W. E. Tapley. The class "C" championship will go to outsiders when J. H. Fuller, Aberdeen, meets Curtis R. Harold, last year's medalist, from Seattle. Another outsider will take away the class "D" laurels as F. M. Warren, Portland, takes on W. H. Hayden, Seattle, in the eighteen-hole final. In the flights, Victoria is well represented, and some of the silverware is expected to stay in the Capital City.

FELL GOES UNDER

The defeat of Colonel Fell, the titlist, and the thrilling extra-hole battle between Kettenbach and Dempsey was yesterday's features. Fell was erratic in losing to Abbott, the Bellingham contender. The Mainlander won the first hole with a birdie four. The short second was halved in threes and Abbott squared the match at the third. The fourth was also halved and Fell took the fifth, but Abbott came right back to bring the pair on even terms again by taking the sixth. On this hole, Fell lost two balls in the woods and practically conceded the hole. The seventh was halved in threes, Abbott sinking a long putt to gain an even break. The eighth and ninth were halved, and Fell won the tenth. Abbott played the eleventh just about perfect to square the match again.

A pair of sixes halved the long twelfth, and Abbott took the next, but the defending champion rose to the occasion to win the fourteenth. Fell missed a short putt on the next to lose out, and Abbott won the sixteenth to become dormie two. The match ended on the seventeenth when the hole was halved in pars, and thus marked the exit of the 1932 champion.

Kettenbach and Dempsey played a game of give and take throughout. The Idaho expert won the first hole, but Dempsey got his par three on the short second to even matters. A pair of fives halved the third, while the fourth and fifth were halved in fours. Kettenbach bagged a four to take the lead at the sixth, but Dempsey caged a beautiful three at the next to square the match. Dempsey also won the eighth and Kettenbach sank a fine putt for a par on the ninth to head for home on even terms.

DEMPSEY TAKES LEAD

The Idaho contender took the tenth, but Dempsey came right back to take the next two long holes to assume the lead. A five was good enough to give Dempsey the eleventh and a par three won the twelfth for him. The fourteenth was halved in threes, and Kettenbach captured the fifteenth. Fours halved the next hole and the seventeenth was halved in fives. Sinking a nice putt on the final green for par four, Kettenbach won the hole to send the match to extra holes.

A pair of par fives halved the nineteenth and threes were good enough to break even at the twentieth. The twenty-first was halved in fives, after Dempsey had a great chance for a win, but he missed a three-footer by inches. On the twenty-second both had good drives. Dempsey missed his second spoon, while his third landed in a trap, just short of the green. During this time, Kettenbach was playing safe. His second, a spoon shot, was fourteen feet from the pin, and then Dempsey conceded the hole when he saw it was hopeless even to gain a half.

R. W. Gibson won the class "A" long-driving contest, with a wallop of 197 yards, while J. E. Wilson took class "B" honors with a 200-yard drive down the first fairway. Colonel Fell, the 1932 champion, won class "C" laurels with 207 yards to his credit, while J. J. Dempsey took class "D" honors with 213 yards. T. S. McPherson won yesterday's putting prize with a thirty-three, while R. J. A. O'Reilly and F. Rippe combined to win the fourball competition with 143. W. H. Hayden and Reginald Long came next with 148. E. J. Mann, the Wenatchee entry, took the bogey honors by a close margin over the large entry list.

SONS DEFEAT BUDS, 5 TO 4 IN PLAY-OFF

Runs in Third and Fourth Frames Give Canadians Close Baseball Victory

DRIVING across a run in the second and two in the third and fourth innings, Sons of Canada took the first game of the Twilight Baseball League play-offs, by a 5 to 4 score at the Royal Athletic Park, last night. The game was witnessed by a good crowd, and the boys played bang-up ball from start to finish. The second tussle of the series will take place next week. The series is two out of three.

Both teams scored a run in the second. In the third, the Sons drove across two runs, but the Buds came back to even the count in their half with a couple of more. The Sons went to work in the fourth, hit the ball in the pinches to send home two more, while they held the Buds scoreless in their half. The Buds gained back a run in the fifth, but failed to draw up on even terms before the game ended.

Wilf Shouldice pitched for the Canadians and held the Buds to five hits, the majority of which were scattered, while Haley Jackson tossed them up for the Buds and allowed the Sons only three safeties, one of which went for extra bases. Shouldice fanned four and Jackson seven. Both gave two bases on balls.

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON

The Three Wonders of Loch Lomond—Loch Lomond, considered the Queen of Scottish Lakes, was formerly celebrated for the presence in it of three wonders. They were: "Waves without wind," explained by the swell and roll of waters towards the head of the lake, caused by local gusts, while the shores remained calm. "Fish without fins," explained by the belief that vipers used to swim in it from isle to isle. "The Floating Island," a natural raft of timber, rushes and the like, which would occasionally appear in the loch.

COOPER TAKES LEAD IN CANADIAN OPEN GOLF

Defending Champ Shoots Round of 70 to Go to Top

Chicago Professional Beats Par by Two Strokes —Joe Kirkwood, John Farrell and Bobby Alston Stroke Behind—Somerville Has 73—Sarazen Registers 76

By EDWIN S. JOHNSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

ROYAL YORK GOLF CLUB, TORONTO, Aug. 17 (CP).—Producing the fighting qualities of a real champion, "Lighthorse" Harry Cooper, of Chicago, began defence of his Canadian open golf championship today by leading the field of 138 stars to the wire in the first round of the title chase. Cooper breezed over the wind-swept and tricky Royal York lay-out in 70 strokes, 2 under par, to lead three stampeding contenders by a single stroke.

The trio who were pressing the champion closely were the youthful stylist, Bobby Alston, from the Rivermeade Club, Ottawa; Joe Kirkwood, famed trick shot artist from Chicago, and the modest Johnny Farrell, of Mamaronick, N.Y.

Another powerful flight followed right behind with 72's, including one of the Canadian favorites, Willie Lamb, of Toronto, holder of the Canadian P.G.A. title and the Quebec open crown. He was paired with larroping Leo Diegel, of Agua Caliente, Mexico.

VON ELM WELL UP

Also in the same company came George Von Elm, Detroit, and Willie Goggin, young giant from Salada Beach, California. Canada also had her representatives among the flashy group, with Jack Armitage, Dundas, Ont., and R. H. Green, of Kingston, sharing the spotlight.

Sharing the glory of leading the large contingent of Simon-pures was the imperturbable "Sandy" Ross Somerville, United States amateur title holder, of London, Ont., and youthful Frank Corrigan, of Ottawa, who crashed through with commendable 73's.

Showing of the homesters gave great encouragement to those who have been predicting this is Canada's year for repossession of the cup, now absent for fourteen years.

A bit of drama was packed into the waning hours of the opening day's play as Karl Keffer, veteran Ottawa professional and last Canadian to hold the crown, ran into disheartening trouble early in his round and withdrew.

Royal York's championship test of 6,675 yards, with its yawning traps and natural hazards, lived up to pre-tournament prediction.

SARAZEN OFF FORM

Gene Sarazen, fresh from his conquest at Milwaukee, where he hung the P.G.A. scalp to his belt, simply couldn't get going today and required a 76. He was erratic with his woods and frequently in trouble with his irons. Cooper, a bit unsteady at the start, quickly recovered his composure and came home

HARRY "LIGHTHORSE" COOPER

3 under par. Unerring pitches to the pin, prodigious drives and several one-putt greens carried him into the onerous pace-setting groove.

His card:

Par out	443 443 535—35
Cooper out	444 443 634—36
Par in	454 344 355—37
Cooper in	444 344 344—34

Farrell probably had the greatest opportunity of any of the masters to establish a commanding first-round lead, as with magic touch he shattered par to bits, with an all-time record of thirty-one strokes for the shorter half. Fates frowned upon him coming home, where he wound up with an inglorious 40, for a total of 71.

Alston also had plenty of bad breaks, but picked up on the inward journey.

Leading the Montreal contingent was the long-hitting A. F. MacPherson, whose consistent play landed him in the charmed circle of 73's.

SOMERVILLE ERRATIC

Well within hauling distance of the leader, Somerville and Lamb lost a number of opportunities to cut down, but traps and inability to sink long putts when they had chances for birdies held these two wizards in check.

Jack Nash, another Londoner, who tied for the amateur medal in the 1931 tournament, lost his chance of being well up with the leaders by taking forty-two strokes on the first half. He recovered for a 35 on the last nine.

Tomorrow, the field sets out on the second leg of the test and only those who finish within twenty strokes of the leader will qualify to continue into the final 36 on Saturday.

LOU GEHRIG SETS RECORD FOR PLAYING

Yankee First Sacker Plays In 1,308 Successive Games for Team

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 17 (AP).—Lou Gehrig, the iron man of baseball, today established a new endurance record for the sport as he played in his 1,308th successive game, surpassing by one game the old mark of 1,307 straight contests made by Everett (Deacon) Scott, former Yankee shortstop.

The New York first baseman, who began his sensational string June 1, 1925, twenty-six days after Scott ended his run, was the recipient of a silver trophy and many congratulations. President William Harridge, of the American League, was on hand to see the setting of the new record, but Scott was detained by business from making the trip from his home in Fort Wayne, Ind.

Gehrig failed to figure prominently in the Yankee offensive, but he connected with two hits, both singles. The two blows increased his total hits in the major leagues to 1,696 in 4,978 times at bat. They also left him with a major league batting average of .340. He also has scored 1,171 runs and driven out 382 home runs.

Remember When

(Twenty-Five Years Ago)

The feature of yesterday's series of three matches in the Northwest championship cricket tournament was the easy defeat of the Burrard, Vancouver entry, by the strong Vancouver Club eleven. In this, the latter showed strength in every department and, consequently, are looked on as likely to be found in the final match, which takes place on Friday. Burrard was beaten by an innings and thirty-one runs. The match took place on the Jubilee Hospital grounds and attracted a big crowd. At Beacon Hill grounds, Albions met and vanquished the Portland eleven. At the finish, they had an innings and thirty-eight runs. At Work Point Barracks, Seattle overcame the Garrison almost equally decisively, the score in this case being 210-112. Victoria and Vernon teams had a day off and will be seen in action today.

On Saturday afternoon the Victoria baseball team will meet Port Ludlow nine at Oak Bay Park. This team has a splendid reputation as a fast, hard-hitting aggregation and is headed by George Babbitt, who, at one time, played on the local nine. They have defeated all the leading teams in the Northwest.

Stanley Ketchell knocked Joe Thomas out in a scheduled fifteen-round bout in the second round at the San Francisco Arena last night, telegraphic reports stated. Ketchell's savagery and brilliant punching were too much for Thomas, who apparently was no match for the fast-stepping champion. Ketchell weighed 160 pounds and Thomas 161. This was the fourth encounter between the two, Ketchell winning two of the previous bouts, while the third as a draw. Ketchell as a 10-to-4 favorite at the ringside. He will now seek a bout with Burns.

The Athletic Lacross Club, of St Catharines, Ontario, champions of the National Association, have issued a challenge to the New Westminster squad for the Minto Cup, recently won by the Westerners from the Montreal Shamrocks. The series is expected to be accepted and will probably take place this Fall.

Port Angeles Girls Play W.S.A. Sunday

The Port Angeles fair sex softball team will play the Workers' Sports Association at Hampton Park on Sunday. Two games are scheduled, the first at 10:30 a.m. and the other at 2:30 p.m. A large attendance is expected.

Security Prices Spurt Upward at New York Mart

NEW YORK, Aug. 17 (AP).—Taking their cue from a spurt in the grain and cotton markets, stocks today kicked up their heels for a jamboree which left prices 1 to 5 or more points higher.

Grain, on Chicago Board of Trade, opened lower, then suddenly shifted position and began to climb.

Wheat gained 1 7-8 to 2 7-8c a bushel at the close. Cotton was up $3.20 to $3.75 a bale. Bonds were firm after a narrow irregular opening, but United States dollar was heavy in foreign exchange markets.

Trading proceeded at a livelier pace in the stock market than any previous day this week. Volume totaled 2,474,730 shares.

Wall Street had no clear convictions as to why the grain market reversed itself, but the action proved to be the signal for a scramble to get into stocks.

For a short time during the peak of the rally the ticker ran behind. Activity tapered off later, but most stocks closed around their high prices for the day.

Vidette Gold Producer

TWO years of efficient development work has added Vidette Gold Mines, Limited, to the profitable producing mines of British Columbia. Above is shown part of the plant at the property, which is situated at Vidette Lake, forty-five miles north of Savona, B.C., in the Kamloops mining district.

The company, so far, has been financed by a group of British Columbia business men, and shares are very closely held.

Mining operations to date include drifting on the main vein for over four hundred feet at various levels, remarkable continuity and consistency of values having been established, while the vein widths on the lower levels are approximately three times as great as those on the upper levels. The values at the mill head have been averaging approximately one ounce of gold per ton, which, at the present valuation of gold, means about $30 per ton.

The development during the past two years, it is stated, has proven up ore sufficient for at least two years ahead of their present mill capacity of 1,000 tons per month.

Gordon F. Dickson, a mining and metallurgical engineer of large practical experience, is the managing director of the company. T. F. Dawson, of Vancouver, is president. Rupert V. D. Guthrie, of Victor W Odlum, Brown & Company, Victoria, and Nelson Spencer, Vancouver, recently have been nominated to the board of directors.

Prices at Eastern Exchanges Advance Over Broad Front

MONTREAL, Aug. 17 (CP).—International Nickel took the lead in a fresh upturn by Montreal Stock Exchange listings during today's session. Trading picked up with the advance in quotations and volume was heavy. After an initial decline the market continued upward with hardly a break.

Nickel drew strength from reports the company would show earnings of at least 10 cents a share for the second quarter of the year's operations.

The base-metaller closed at 21.25 where its net gain was 1.65.

Canadian Pacific Railway, helped by a favorable earnings report, gained 7-8 at 17.

The alcohol stocks were strong. Canadian Industrial Alcohol "A" was up 1 1-2 points at 19, while the "B" stocks held a gain of 1 3-4 points at 7 3-4.

Consolidated Smelters was a strong spot, rising 2 1-2 points at 130, while Montreal Cottons established a new high for the year at 65, where it was up 4 points. Brazilian Traction rose 5-8 at 14 1-8, while other fractional advances were recorded by Shawinigan Power, Dominion Bridge, Quebec Power, National Steel Car, Power Corporation, Hollinger, Dominion Steel and Ontario steel products.

Sales, 19,745 shares; bonds, $16,255.

TORONTO STOCK EXCHANGE

TORONTO, Aug. 17 (CP).—Inflation bees buzzed again today and commodities shot ahead followed by stocks, Toronto exchange listings trailing the New York board. Metal and liquor stocks were particularly buoyant, gains ranging up to 6 3-4 in the case of Walker's common.

International Nickel advanced 1 1-2 on the New York board and 1.75 on the Toronto exchange. Nickel, along with Walker's common, gave leadership to the whole board, and 31 shares closed higher, 16 lower and 27 held unchanged.

Stocks livened up at the end of the first hour. Walker's common closed at 47, compared with 40 1-4 yesterday. Distillers-Seagram gained 3 to 30, Industrial Alcohol 2 1-4 and Brewers and Distillers advanced 15 to 2.65. The brewery group all scored gains.

In the interlisted group, Ford "A" was up 1, C.P.R. 7-8, and Brazilian 1-2. Smelters was slow getting started, but climbed 3 points in the last few minutes. Oil shares showed narrower gains.

Movements were irregular in the food group, while heavy industrials were strong.

TORONTO MINING MARKET

TORONTO, Aug. 17 (CP).—Mining shares emerged from the gloom that has enveloped them for several days and moved to higher ground today on the Standard Mining Exchange. The sudden change in sentiment was largely due to the advance in wheat which was reported to be based on new inflation rumors. Nickel took the cue from the buoyant action of the New York board, and all groups followed.

Gold shares were hesitant in the early part of the day, but at the close Dome was 2.15 higher, McIntyre up 50 cents, Lakeshore up 75, Pioneer up 1.10, Bralorne up 50, Teck up 10 and Wright-Hargreaves 5.

Anticipating the favorable earnings statement that came along later, Nickel was in good demand all day and the close at 21.15 showed a net gain of 1.55.

Eldorado closed at 3.70, up 45 cents. There was no generally accepted explanation of the advance.

WHEAT PRICES SWING UPWARD

Futures Close Three Cents Higher Following Chicago and Liverpool Rise

WINNIPEG, Aug. 17 (CP).—Bolstered by a renewal of export buying and a spectacular upswing at Chicago, wheat prices climbed out of the rut on the grain exchange today. Shaking off the shackles of "pegged" prices, values closed 2 5-8 to 3 1-2 cents above yesterday's close.

Further strengthened by strong Liverpool cables, prices were firm all morning to close at 72 3-4 for the October option, December at 74 5-8 and May delivery at 79 3-4 cents. All options shared in the trading, which was on a good scale for the first hour or so. At the high points the market was 4 cents up.

It was estimated about 1,000,000 bushels was sold for shipment abroad. Liverpool wheat at the close was 3-4d to 7-8d higher, due to unfavorable weather reports from the Argentine, where rain is needed.

Russia cleared her first wheat shipments of the season, totaling 248,000 bushels, from Black Sea ports. Cash and coarse grains were in better demand and spreads were improved.

Montreal Produce

MONTREAL, Aug. 17 (CP).—With the exception of the egg market, which advanced substantially, prices on Montreal Dairy and Produce Markets were unchanged from yesterday's final quotations today. Graded shipments in car lots or less of extra eggs sold for 20 to 21 cents a dozen, firsts for 16 to 17 cents and seconds for 13 to 14 cents.

Wholesale butter prices remained steady at 18 1-4 to 18 1-2 cents a pound for No. 1 grade in car lots or less.

On the cheese market, Ontario white and colored held firm at 10 to 10 7-8 cents a pound, with Quebec white and colored at the usual half a cent less.

Lovely Seafront

One hundred feet of it at Deep Cove and a charming five-room house and garage. There is one acre of land, which includes a very delightful garden and two little cottages, nestling in trees, which can be used as guest houses. Both these and the main house have electric light. The views from the windows of water, hills and forest are an unfailing delight. We doubt if there is a more attractive property for its size on all Vancouver Island, and we expect to sell it quickly at its low price of $5500

AVIATION DRAMA NOW AT EMPIRE

"The King's Cup" Stars Dorothy Bouchier and Harry Milton—Story Concerns Air Race

A new type of sporting picture will be seen at the Empire Theatre today with Sir Alan Cobham's melodrama of the air, "The King's Cup," based on the thrilling aerial Derby around the shores of England, held yearly, and which has been in the sporting news quite recently, with the winning of the 1933 trophy by Captain De Havilland, one of England's pioneer flyers.

Like the author of the story himself, Cobham has been identified with some of the earliest and most hazardous flying feats on behalf of his country and made long distance world and Empire records long before the present highly equipped planes were in existence. The story of the "King's Cup" is based on the famous race just completed, and shows actual close scenes of the event and the many daredevil feats performed both by men and women.

England's women flyers are second to none in daring, as the records show, and "The King's Cup" is a sensational drama of a plucky girl flyer who risks her life to help her sweetheart win the great air race. The stars are Harry Milton, one of England's brilliant flying actors, and Dorothy Bouchier, who will be remembered here for her charming work in "Carnival," with Matheson Lang, and in "The Blue Danube."

AMUSEMENTS

On the Screen

Capitol—"The Gold Diggers of 1933," with an all-star cast.

Columbia—Slim Summerville in "Out All Night."

Dominion—"Be Mine Tonight," starring Kleupra.

Empire—Dorothy Bouchier in "The King's Cup."

Playhouse—"Sweepings," featuring Lionel Barrymore.

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE The escapades of three heirs of a multi-millionaire who chose to buy love and pleasure and cynically scouted the existence of anything worth while, are daringly portrayed in RKO-Radio Pictures' "Sweepings," now showing at the Playhouse Theatre. Lionel Barrymore has the central role, assisted by a cast of fifteen noted featured players. John Cromwell directed.

CAPITOL THEATRE One of the novelty song numbers in the Warner Bros. special musical and dramatic production, "Gold Diggers of 1933," which is now at the Capitol Theatre, was the idea of Ginger Rogers, one of the members of the all-star cast. She had hummed the tune of "We're in the Money" so many times she sang the words in Pig Latin to vary the monotony.

COLUMBIA THEATRE The screen's most unusual name is that borne by ZaSu Pitts, now appearing with Slim Summerville on the screen of the Columbia Theatre in the Universal laughing success, "Out All Night." ZaSu was named after her two aunts, Eliza and Susan, and her own name was formed by using the last two letters of the first, and the first two letters of the last.

DOMINION THEATRE No wonder "Be Mine Tonight" is packing them in at the Dominion Theatre this week. This production always did pack them in. In every language it has packed them in. "Be Mine Tonight" has had a peculiar history. Eight months ago, it was made as a strictly German picture in the studios in Berlin. It met with such tremendous success, however, that Gaumont, an English company, made an arrangement with the Ufa to send an English cast to Berlin to make the picture with the same director.

Dry Office Padlocked Now

THE curfew rang at midnight, August 9, for prohibition offices throughout the country. They became a thing of the past as the Government instituted the newly-created division of investigation in the Justice Department. H. Z. Drew, property custodian for the Prohibition Bureau for Northern California, with headquarters in San Francisco, is shown above applying treatment to his office that, so often in the past, was meted out to dry law victims.

She woke up in the early hours of the morning and nudged her sleeping husband.

Hubby unwillingly sat up. "Well, what about it?" he groaned.

"I can hear it squeaking," she said fearfully.

"Well, d'you want me to get out and oil it, or something?" he snapped.

CHILDREN BELOW NORMAL MENTALLY

It is very gratifying to see the change in the treatment of what are called mental defectives, that is, individuals whose mental ability is not up to normal or 100 per cent, as it were.

Formerly they were simply thought of as "crazy," and the best treatment to be separated from their families and everybody else, as some of them had instincts that made them unsafe to those around them.

However, careful investigation shows that there are large numbers of feeble-minded persons whose behaviour in the community is not any worse than that of persons who are not classed as mental defectives.

Nowadays they rank these defectives from the idiot up past the imbecile and the moron to those of normal mental ability.

This means that while the idiot and the next above him, the imbecile, may need special care in an institution, the next higher mentally, the moron, may be so helped that he can return to his family, and to the community, where, under ordinary supervision, he may lead a happy and useful life.

The whole thought then is that instead of thinking of these defectives as diseased or dangerous individuals, that we think of them as having just a little less mental equipment than the rest of us, and by giving this amount of mental equipment an opportunity to do its best, progress may be made in their development.

Dr. W. C. Sandy says that as most defectives will continue to be problems to the community, perhaps a menace if not cared for, an actual asset if trained, it means that there is urgent need for early discovery of these cases, correcting any physical defects, special training for certain cases, and removal of unsuitable cases to institutions.

In many cities now there are classes for those who are not as bright as the normal child, and the teachers in charge of these classes are specially trained for this work.

The thought, then, is that when a youngster doesn't seem to be able to keep up with his class, when he seems unable to concentrate, or when there is definite signs that he is not as old in his mentality as in his body, the parents should not be ashamed to recognize this, and should give the youngster every possible chance to be his very best self, even if this best is not just up to normal.

NOTED MUSICAL FILM COMING TO CAPITOL

England is a land of tradition and the clashing of the family traditions of the famous Marvello Troupe of vaudeville entertainers with those of the famous Royal Guards Regiment provides the fascinating background of the comedy burlesque "Soldiers of the King," which will open at the Capitol Theatre Monday.

An officer of the guards is in love with Judy Marvello, youngest and loveliest member of the Marvello family. An unwritten law of her lover's regiment requires that officers obtain their colonel's sanction before marrying. The resignation is demanded of any officer marrying an actress.

Cicely Courtneidge, England's wonderful queen of comedy, is playing the dual roles of "grand old lady" and the "queen" of the Marvello family and achieves the height of artistry and hilarity.

They were gazing intently at the jeweler's shop window. "That's what I'll give my fiancee," said Harold, pointing to a gold-plated cigarette case. "But I always understood from you that your fiancee didn't smoke," said Bertie. "I know," Harold winked artfully, "but she's due to break off our engagement and send my present back, and I can use it myself."

Little Bedtime Stories

What Farmer Brown's Boy Found

—By THORNTON W. BURGESS—

No ears in all the Green Forest are quicker to catch sounds than are the ears of Buster Bear. He heard the whistle of Farmer Brown's boy just a wee mite before anybody else did. Now usually Buster Bear is quite upset when he knows that Farmer Brown's boy or any other of the two-legged creatures called man is about. You see Buster knows all about terrible guns and how they can hurt even when a long distance off. He knows that terrible guns are found only in the hands of men. And so Buster has a very great distrust for men.

But for once Buster Bear rejoiced in his heart at the knowledge that one of these two-legged creatures was coming. It meant that he would be able to get out of the scrape into which his heedless tongue had got him. He knew that not one of the little people about him would think him a coward for getting out of sight of Farmer Brown's boy. He knew that most of the rest of them would do the same thing. It he ran away, of course, he couldn't carry out his threat of shaking Prickly Porky. But not one of those looking on could say that he wouldn't have done so if Farmer Brown's boy had not come.

It was astonishing that one so big and clumsy-looking could move so quickly and silently

The instant Buster heard that whistle he turned and as silently as a great black shadow he disappeared among the trees. It was astonishing that one so big and clumsy-looking could move so quickly and silently. The other little people listened for a moment, then one by one they disappeared as swiftly as had Buster Bear. Only Chatterer the Red Squirrel, peeping from a hole in a nearby tree, remained to see what would happen.

Nearer and nearer drew that whistle. Then out from among the trees trotted Bowser the Hound, sniffing the ground. A little way behind him came Farmer Brown's boy, whistling just to show how good he felt. Now, it didn't take Bowser long to find out that something had been going on there. First, he got a whiff of Peter Rabbit's tracks. "Bow, wow!" said Bowser. Then, as he started to follow them, he found the tracks of Reddy Fox. "Bow, wow, wow, wow," roared Bowser. Next, he got the scent of Old Man Coyote, and while he was trying to decide whether to follow Old Man Coyote or Reddy Fox, he came across the tracks of Buster Bear.

Such a change as came over Bowser the Hound. All his eagerness vanished. The hair on his shoulders and the back of his neck stood right up. His tail, which he had been carrying up and wagging with the excitement, was now tucked between his legs. "Gr-r-r-r," growled Bowser, and sneaked back to meet his master.

Farmer Brown's boy stopped whistling. "Hello!" he exclaimed. "What ails you? It must be that either Buster Bear or Yowler the Bobcat has been about here. I think I'll take a look around."

So Farmer Brown's boy looked around and it didn't take him long to discover the tree into which Buster had dug his great claws. Then he found Buster's tracks. Least of all he found Prickly Porky still curled up in a prickly ball and knowing nothing about what had happened, for his ears had been so covered up that he had not heard Farmer Brown's boy's whistle or Bowser's deep voice.

Next story: Prickly Porky is Familiar.

A respectable woman was charged with stealing goods from a large store. It was an obvious case of kleptomania, and the magistrate, who seemed inclined to be lenient, asked the prisoner if she had anything to say on her behalf.

"Well, sir," she said hopefully, "I only take British goods."

Milli: Joan has a difficult part in the new play.

Jillie: But I understood she had to stand still and say nothing.

Millie: Exactly, that's why it is difficult.
